TWELVE DIE IN TUNNEL BLAST

SEEK NEGRO AFTER ATTACK ON WOMAN

WIFE OF HOUSTON MERCHANT VICTIM OF BLACK FIEND

WHITE WOMAN ASSAULTED AND THEN ROBBED BY NEGRO EARLY THURSDAY

HOUSTON, July 17.—(AP)—Every available officer was scouring the city this morning in search of a negro who criminally assaulted and robbed the wife of a Houston merchant at 6 o'clock this morning.

The negro was discovered in the bathroom of her home by the woman shortly after her husband had left for work. She fled to the front door but it was locked and the negro overtook her, dragged her into the dining room and asasulted her, holding a knife over her. Her eight old son witnesseed the crime.

After the assault the negro asked for money and the woman got her purse and gave it to him. He then left the house.

The woman described the negro as tall and black. She said that he told her if she made any outcry he would kill her.

WHITE MAN AND NEGRO EXECUTED OKLAHOMA PRISON

WHITE MAN CONVICTED OF MURDER AND BLACK HAD ATTACKED WHITE WOMAN

McALESTER, Okla., July 17.—(AP)—A white man, Tom Guest, 47, convicted of murder, and a negro, James E. Forrest, 23, sentenced for an attack upon a white woman, were executed at the state penitentiary here today.

The negro was the first to be led into the death chamber. He was placed in the electric chair at 12:05 a. m. and at 12:08, was pronounced dead. Guest followed five minutes later, the current being sent into his body at 12:13. Dr. J. A. Munn, prison physician, pronounced him dead at 12:15.

Both walked to the chair unassisted and as Guest, convicted in the death of Bailey Browder, Asher druggist during the robbery of a bank at Asher in 1928, sat down he helped the guards adjust the straps to his arms and ankles and place the black mask about his head. He was smiling.

Guests said he was a better man at heart than some of the spectators, and the negro's last words were "I know I'm going home." The crime for which Forrest was convicted occurred in Stephens county in 1928.

Claude Hager, who was scheduled to die with them, was granted a sixty day stay of execution yesterday by Governor W. J. Holloway. He was convicted in Ottawa county for the death of Walter Hary of Ulysses, Kansas.

EARL CARROLL AND THREE OTHERS ARE HELD FOR TRIAL

NEW YORK, July 17.—(AP)—Earl Carroll, producer of the "Vanities," Jimmy Savo, comedian; Faith Bacon and Kay Carroll, chorus girls, were today held for trial on a charge of producing and taking part in an indecent performance.

Six other chorus girls, arrested with them in the raid on the musical revue, were discharged.

Miss Bacon is accused by police of dancing nude, with only two fans as a moral protection. Savo was the principal in a window undressing scene in which Miss Carroll was one of the "wax models."

The "Vanities" was raided July 9, after a matinee performance which was attended by Captain James Coy, official police censor.

The scenes objected to were eliminated from the production after ther aid.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR VOTE IN APPROACHING PRIMARY; DAILY SUN GIVE RESULTS

All presiding judges who will hold the democratic primary election in the forty-eight voting boxes of Navarro county are urgently requested to call for the ballot boxes and other supplies at the county democratic executive committee's headquarters in rooms 1 and 2, Daily Sun building, Monday, July 21, R. R. Owen, secretary, announced Thursday.

Secretary Owen stated that voters who have moved from one voting box to another since the payment of the poll tax have until Saturday night to transfer from one box to another in order that they may vote in the approaching primary election, Saturday, July 26.

Outlining the procedure for absentee voting, Secretary Owen said that the absentee ballots would be opened by the presiding judges of the voting box, in the presence of the other judges holding the election between 2 and 3 o'clock, election day. He said that the absentee vote must be accompanied by the poll tax receipt or exemption certficate of the voter, just as is the case when voting in person.

Absentee voting is in progress at the county clerk's office and is allowed until three days before the election.

Will Telephone Results

All election officials have been instructed by the county democratic officials to telephone the Daily Sun office the results of the election as soon as possible, and as has been the case for many years, the Daily Sun will compile the unofficial tabulation of the results of the election from the forty-eight voting precincts of the county, and announce the results as fast as they are received.

Returns on the state elections will also be flashed on a screen across the street from the Daily Sun office and also will be announced to the crowd.

It is expected that the street in front of the Daily Sun office will be roped off in order that those interested in the returns from the election can attend the party in front of the Daily Sun building on election night.

A corps of expert accountants will tabulate the election returns

REHABILITATION AND RELIEF WORK OFFICIALLY ENDS

RED CROSS HEADQUARTERS HERE CLOSED AND FROST RELIEF WORK IS OVER

Relief and rehabilitation work of the American National Red Cross in the Central Texas tornado area was officially closed Thursday morning when the offices maintained in the Corsicana chamber of commerce were closed and all equipment and records sent to the Midwestern offices at St. Louis.

Albert Evans, assistant national director of disaster relief, was the last of the workers to leave, taking an afternoon car for Dallas and thence to St. Louis. E. A. Collier, accountant, left early Thursday morning for Washington, D. C.; Miss Mildred Hammer returned to St. Louis, and Miss Kathleen Henderson returned to her home in Dallas.

The final meeting of the advisory committee was held Wednesday afternoon and the final odds and ends were closed. Disbursements for all causes in the relief totaled $131,000, with contributions amounting to $107,126.89, according to the final statement prepared late Wednesday.

Resolutions were adopted by the Frost members of the committee, thanking the people of Corsicana for their assistance. The resolution follows:

Whereas, The town of Frost and surrounding community was visited by a terrible tornado on the afternoon of May 6, 1930, leaving its

TEXAS WILL GAIN AT LEAST TWO NEW MEMBERS CONGRESS

REAPPORTIONMENT FIGURES NOT JUST WHAT HAD BEEN FORECAST PRIOR CENSUS

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(AP)—A probable upset of congressional reapportionment calculations was indicated today as a result of the 1930 state census enumerations thus far completed.

While it cannot be determined exactly which states will lose congressmen and which will gain new members, an Associated Press compilation shows sufficient states have completed their population enumeration to give some indication of the probable changes.

When congress passed its reapportionment act, it was estimated the new census of the states would change 23 memberships. Based on the estimated population of the population of the states as of January 1, 1930, it was estimated officially that 17 states would lose a total of 23 house members which would be apportioned to 11 states gaining in population.

Some states which were not figured among the probable losers are now indicated to have lost. Final calculations may find Illinois, Wisconsin, Arkansas, Rhode Island and Minnesota losing one representative each.

California's actual population had exceeded by almost a million the official estimate used in calculating that state would gain six new members. As a result it is not improbable that California's

TEXAS RANGERS ON GUARD OVER NEGRO CHARGED WITH MURDER OF WHITE WOMAN

WHEELER, July 17.—(AP)—Jesse Lee Washington, negro, was indicted by a special grand jury today for the murder of Mrs. Henry Vaughan near Shamrock last Friday. The prisoner was arraigned and ordered held without bond.

Judge W. R. Ewing transferred the case to Miami on a change of venue. Court will convene there next Monday and Judge Ewing said he would set the case for trial July 28.

Washington was placed in the Gray county jail at Pampa yesterday, having been removed from an unknown point, believed to be Granite, Okla., where he was taken after his arrest when mob violence was threatened.

The negro was being guarded by Sharifr Claude McKinney of Collingsworth conty, Sergeant M. T. Gonzaullas and three other Texas rangers and several deputies. The rangers were equipped with two machine guns and tear bombs.

PAMPA, July 17.—(AP)—Texas Rangers were ensconced in the Gray county jail here today guarding Jesse Lee Washington, negro, accused in the slaying of Mrs. Henry Vaughan, farm wife of Collingsworth county.

Meanwhile, a grand jury was summoned by Judge W. R. Ewing to consider the negro's case. Judge Ewing announced he would send the case to Miami on a change of venue as soon as an indictment was returned and set the case for trial in his court there on July 28.

The Rangers, under command of Acting Capt. Manuel T. (Lone Wolf) Gonzaullas, and assisted by Sheriff Claude McKinney of Collingsworth county, yesterday outwitted two bands of men who sought to take the negro.

Sheriff McKinney, disguised as an oil field worker, sped to Pampa with the prisoner chained in his closed automobile. The two bands of men followed the Rangers, believing they had the negro in custody. When the Rangers arrived here, Sheriff McKinney already had placed the negro safely in jail.

The night passed without any demonstration. Political candidates spoke on the courthouse lawn fairly beneath the windows where the machine guns of the Rangers bristled defiance, but the crowd dispersed peaceably after the political meeting.

The negro supposedly had been confined in the Oklahoma state

SEVEN CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNORSHIP ARE COMBING STATE

STERLING, TARGET FOR ALL OPPONENTS, TO MAKE NON-POLITICAL SPEECH

(By The Associated Press)

Steady booming of political cannon, marches and counter-marches of candidates seeking possession of the governor's chair of Texas, today found seven of the candidates still out on the hustings, while Ross S. Stelring of Houston, the target for most of their verbal artillery, was booked for a non-political speech at the East Texas Teachers' College at Commerce. Last night he invaded Dallas, reputed "Hoover-Democratic" stronghold and the home of one of his most active opponents, State Senator Thomas B. Love, as well as Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller.

The Houstonian, for the first time, mentioned in his address that the plan for a statewide highway bond issue which he champions, and which most of the other gubernatorial candidates oppose, had been endorsed by the West Texas, East Texas and South Texas chambers of commerce.

"I should not be singled out as a target because of the plan I favor," he said. "Other states have done and are doing the same thing. I studied it, then advocated it.

James E. Ferguson, at San Angelo, asserted that "3,000 miles of highways could be built yearly from the interest on the proposed bond issue and that would care for the state's need without going further into debt." He was speaking for the candidacy of his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson. "Ma," for the second night in succession, was ill and unable to appear. Tonight she planned to speak at Abilene.

THOUSANDS VISIT NEW OIL TOWN AS RAILWAY OPENED

VAN, July 17.—(AP)—This thriving town of oil got a new thrill today when passenger service was inaugurated over the Texas & Pacific short line with arrival of an excursion train from Dallas and Fort Worth, carrying more than 500 persons. The new line extends 14 miles from the main line at Grand Saline.

Gov. Moody arrived early from Tyler and former Gov. Pat M. Neff, chairman of the state railroad commission, rode the special. They were to make speeches.

The first train was welcomed by Joel R. Bond and Frank Jensen, general passenger agent for the Texas & Pacific, responded.

Three bands, from Tyler, Minneola and Grand Saline, made music, and the visitors were served a barbecued dinner.

VAN, July 17—(AP)—Visitors from the entire Southwest, particularly those interested in oil development were in Van today to attend the celebration opening the 11-mile line of the Texas Short Line, a subsidiary of the Texas & Pacific railway, linking the Van Zandt county oil field with T. & P.'s main line at Grand Saline.

Governor Moody was on the program to speak and thousands of pounds of meat had been barbecued for the picnic. Special trains were due to run over the new line from Dallas and Shreveport.

Well Planned Attempt Uncovered To Break Dallas County Jail

DALLAS, July 17.—(AP) An apparently well-planned effort to liberate prisoners, including three held on murder charges, from the Dallas county jail, was discovered today by Sheriff Hal Hood and Jack Gorman, jailer.

They found two bars sawed from a cell and two bars partially sawed from another cell.

A "shake down" of prisoners netted seven hacksaw blades.

Dewey Hunt, awaiting a second trial for murder after the court of criminal appeals had reversed a death sentence against him, was one of the prisoners confined near the cells affected.

ALLEGED ROBBERS HELD

NOCONA, July 17. (AP) News was received here today that the two robbers who looted the Ellis Williford store here of $1,000 cash and merchandise, forcing Williford to open the safe, were captured near Clinton, Okla. Messages said Williford had identified them.

HAPSBURG BEHIND PRISON BARS

ARCHDUCHESS MARIE THERESE, ARCHDUKE LEOPOLD and NAPOLEON NECKLACE.

NEW YORK, July 17.—The most incongruous figure ever committed to historic Tombs Prison today sits in a bare concrete cell, a fellow-prisoner to felons and murderers. The man is Archduke Leopold of Austria, scion of the Hapsburgs who in the days of their glory could do no wrong. Charged with participating in the unauthorized sale of the famous $400,000 diamond Napoleon necklace, Leopold asked to be jailed to hasten his trial.

YOUNGER GENERATION HAS TAKEN TO TREES IN TEXAS; IS ALSO FAD OVER NATION

FORT WORTH, July 17.—(AP)—Hopes of a dozen juvenile aspirants to tree-sitting endurance records were dashed here today when one lad was seriously injured in a fall from his perch and Chief of Police W. H. Lee ordered all remaining contenders to be brought to earth at once.

The injured lad, Oscar Fox, 15, fell asleep in his hammock suspended 15 feet above ground and rolled out, sustaining two broken ribs and severe bruises. He was in a hospital recovering from his ill fated endurance trip.

Other tree sitters were brought down by police, although the youths were reluctant to quit their posts. Plans of other aspiring contenders were nipped when the Humane Society also took a hand to prevent and others from going aloft.

FORT WORTH, July 17.—(AP) An attempt to win the three sitting championship was suddenly halted early today for Oscar Fox, 15, son of Mrs. Stella Fox, when he fell from a tree. Fox was asleep when he rolled from his hammock fifteen feet from the ground at 1.45 a. m. He is in a hospital suffering from two broken ribs, a swollen face and bruises.

His partner in the contest, Leonard Smith, was still "aloft" at 9.30 today, at that hour being up 60 1-2 hours.

DALLAS, July 17. - (AP) The Texas younger generation, so to speak, was all up in the air today at least, a conservative estimate last night in El Paso was that 100 children were sitting in trees, all trying for the long-distance, non-stop refueling record fo rtree sitting. Other cities were not to be outdone and reports of additional entrants in the novel contest increased hourly.

Four El Paso girls, not to be outdone by the boys, had spent more than twelve hours in trees. Romance also had entered into the contest. One El Paso boy, Merle Hatch, had been up in a tree eight hours, under the management of Janie Douglas, 12. "I

CRUSHED BODY OF YOUNG MOUNTAIN CLIMBER FOUND

LONE PINE, Cal., July 17. - (AP) The crushed body of Howard Lamel, 18, who disappeared while trying to climb the top of Mount Whitney, July 5, was found yesterday in a crevice at an altitude of 13,500 feet.

The discovery was made by Bob Evans and Norman Clyde, veteran mountaineers. They said the youth apparently had fallen about 400 feet. His wrist watch had stopped at 3 o'clock.

No attempt was made to bring the body out of the mountain. The searchers said removal would call for much preparation.

Lamel, with his father, Edward G. Lamel, and a friend, all of Los Angeles, started to climb Mount Whitney, highest mountain in the United States, during the Fourth of July Holiday. Young Lamel announced his intention of climbing the east slope, a feat accomplished by few.

The others made their way to the summit by the west slope and waited for Howard to appear. The next day his disappearance was reported and a search began.

Marriage Worth Much to Woman of Negro Blood

LAS VEGAS, Nevada, July 17. (AP) Two agreements, one secret and the other specifying payment of $51,500 in cash to Mrs. Alice Rhinelander, and alimony of $3600 a year for the remainder of her life, were entered today into the divorce decree recently granted Leonard Kip Rhinelander, scion of a wealthy New York family.

LAS VEGAS, Nevada, July 17. (AP)—Attorneys for Leonard Kip Rhinelander, scion of a socially prominent New York family, and Mrs. Alice Rhinelander, his Octoroon wife, announced today they had reached an agreement under which she would recognize the divorce he received here several months ago.

Harley A. Harmon, Las Vegas, attorney for Rhinelander, and L. R. Jacobs, of New York, attorney for Mrs. Rhinelander, said the final property settlement would be taken before Judge Edwards in the district court here for approval.

The attorneys declined to reveal deails of the agreement but indicated it called for payment of between $200,000 and $500,000 to Mrs. Rhinelander.

BODY MISSING AIR MAIL PILOT FOUND WEDNESDAY BY WAR FLYING PARTNER

CEDAR CITY, Utah, July 17.—(AP) The long search for Maurice Graham, Western Air Express air mail pilot, missing since January, ended yesterday when his body was found six miles from where his wrecked plane was discovered late in June.

Major Richard N. McDonald, wartime flying companion of the dead air mail pilot, led a small searching party that discovered the long sought body in underbrush along a stream in the Kanarra mountains 22 miles southeast of here.

Identification was made through two personal cards, his revolver and foodstuffs taken from the plane. Major McDonald said he believed Graham died from exposure, apparently while sitting down to eat.

In his left hand resting across his chest was a knife and beside the body a can of tomatoes. In his right hand, lying over his head he held is revolver, fully loaded.

An empty can of foodstuffs also lay beside the body.

The discovery climaxed an intensive search of the vicinity which has been under way since discovery of the plane.

Lost In Blizzard

Graham was flying the air mail run from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City. It was on the last leg of his flight that he became lost in a storm over Nevada and Utah. He left Las Vegas, Nevada late at night on January 10 for Salt Lake City on his regular air mail run. At the time of his takeoff a blizzard was brewing, but the flier, noted for his daring, believed he could battle through it

The odds were against him, however, and before he had flown far, the blizzard had increased in intensity. At St. George in the southwest corner of Utah, residents heard his plane circling over the town, and believed he intended to land but was unable to do so because of snow that had covered the lights on the emergency landing field.

Graham apparently gave up the effort to land and again headed for Salt Lake City. Along the route between Cedar City and St. George, farmers and residents of towns said they heard a plane believed to have been Graham's flying low as if looking for a place to land. His plane is believed to have crashed high in the Kanarra

Gerard Expects War Involving Italy-France

NEW YORK, July 17. (AP) James W. Gerard, ambassador to Germany under President Wilson, expressed the belief today upon his return from France that "a new war is brewing, between Italy and France."

"It is imminent," he said, "it is in the air."

He talked to no diplomats on his visit, he said. A "feel it France were the aggressor he answered, "I should not say so. She has reason to remember of the last war. I think France fears it."

EXPLOSION OF GAS IN SAN FRANCISCO PROJECT THURSDAY

DOZEN MEN WORKING ON WATER TUNNEL PROJECT KILLED IN BLAST

CAMP MITCHELL, Calif., July 17.—(AP)—A gas explosion killed an entire shift of 12 men in a tunnel of the Hetch Hetchy project, San Francisco's municipal water area, early today.

Engineers said a natural gas pocket probably had been struck in the boring and the gas accidentally ignited.

The tunnel drops straight downward more than 800 feet from the surface and then branches into a drift to the east and one to the west. Those killed were in the east drift. Thirteen men in the west drift, which goes down about 1,500 feet, were badly shaken and some were gassed but all were brought to the surface. None was seriously hurt.

Two bodies were recovered almost immediately but the gas flow soon drove rescuers to the use of masks.

C. R. Rankin, engineer in charge, said the men had been working in a serpentine formation of earth yesterday and had found no trace of gas, evidence of the presence of gas generally appears in plenty of time to take precautions, he said.

The bodies of John McNichles, 42, shift boss, and J. C. Maybin, 21, were recovered.

DEATH PENALTIES GIVEN PAIR FOR KILLING THREE

EXTREME PENALTY ASSESSED AFTER JURY FINDS FATHER AND SON GUILTY

CEDARTOWN, Ga., July 17. (AP) - William Hulsey and his son, Fred, convicted yesterday of the murder of one of three men said to have been killed after a card game were sentenced today to be electrocuted August 29. Defense attorneys filed a motion for a new trial.

A murder verdict carrying the death penalty was returned against the men last night, less than a month after the bodies of Cliff Jones, Lige Harper and Ernest McCullough were found in an abandoned well near Rockmart, Ga.

Investigators said they had learned the three men were taken to the place in a buggy and killed because they won heavily in a card game in which they were expected to lose.

CLOTURE RULE IS SOUGHT IN DEBATE ON NAVAL TREATY

OPPONENTS OF PACT REFUSE AGREE TO EARLY VOTE; DEBATE CONTINUES

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(AP)—A petition seeking the Cloture rule to shut off debate on the London naval treaty was circulated in the senate today by Senator Watson, the republican leader, after Senator Johnson, republican, California, had refused to enter any agreement for a limitation of debate beginning next Tuesday.

The necessary 16 names were quickly enrolled. Watson had expressed confidence that the necessary two-thirds majority could be obtained to invoke the rule, although some of the treaty advocates are opposed to the cloture.

If introduced today, the petition would be automatically voted upon Saturday. If adopted, each senator would be limited to one hour of debate on the treaty thereafter.

Watson consulted treaty advocates to determine when to offer

Man Dies After Fight; Son Held Arlington Jail

ARLINGTON, July 17.—(AP)—L. L. Brown, 54, farmer was dead, and his son, W. P. Brown, 29, of Grand Prairie, was in jail here as the result of a fist fight at a dance hall near Grand Prairie Tuesday night. The elder Brown died at 6 o'clock Wednesday night at his home, two and a half miles north of Arlington.

The younger Brown admitted having a fight with his father and said it was the culmination of a month-old quarrel.

W. P. Brown was arrested by Sheriff Wright of Fort Worth today at the Moore Funeral Home, where he had gone to arrange for funeral services. He was placed in the Arlington jail awaiting the arrival of Deputy Sheriff Pat Richards of Dallas county.

Minister's Wife Is Unable Identify Man

DALLAS July 17. (AP) Mrs. C. S. Maxson, wife of the Baptist minister and salesman who was shot to death in the bedroom of his home by a prowler Sunday, today failed to identify as the slayer a man held in the Dallas county jail.

"He is not the man," Mrs. Maxson said after she had viewed him.

She told officers it would be difficult for her to positively identify anyone as the slayer.

AMERICAN WELL AND MAGNOLIA OILERS IN TIE ON WEDNESDAY

HUMBLE DEFEATED WHITE'S CHAPEL MID-WEEK GAME ON HUMBLE DIAMOND

The Magnolia Oilers and American Well Gumbo Busters had a good time Wednesday afternoon at the Municipal Park but as far as deciding a baseball game, the afternoon was lost. The two nines played eight innings to a 5-all tie before the contest was called on account of darkness by Umpire Tyner.

Taking the lead in the first inning to score two runs, one more than the Oilers amassed in the initial stanza, the Gumbo Busters looked like they were headed for a victory, especially when the bombardment continued for two-thirds of an inning later. Manager Joyner then put Peck Jones, the boy with the flaming auburn hair, on the mound. Bondurant grounded out Jones to Ruth to end the inning and scoring for the Gumbo Busters until the seventh stanza.

Coming back in the third inning, the Magnolia Oilers scored four runs to give Jones a lead of two runs which seemed sufficient to win the game. Both pitchers bore down and no more scoring was done until with two men out in the seventh and two men on base, Manager Rash of the Gumbo Busters hit a fly ball to right-center field that fell to the ground for a single and scored both runners.

The eighth inning was a tame affair, with both sides being retired in order. Umpire Tyner then called the contest on account of darkness, and the whole afternoon was lost as far as deciding anything definite about the winner of the contest. The contest will more than likely be played over when the two teams meet later in the season.

The Humble Oilers continuing where they left off Sunday, whipped the Whites Chapel nine to take fourth place in the league standing, their accustomed place during the first half and sent the Whites Chapel team back into the cellar with one victory and three defeats.

The schedule for Saturday calls for a contest on the Bazette diamond between the Magnolia Oilers and the Bazette nine; Blooming Grove at the Municipal Park with the Gumbo Busters as opponents; and the Humble repays the visit of the Whites Chapel nine.

Sunday, the Blooming Grove team and Whites Chapel meet on the Whites Chapel diamond; the Bazette nine comes to Corsicana for a battle with the Gumbo Busters; and the league leading Magnolia Oilers will be the guests of the Humble nine for the afternoon.

Games will also be played next Wednesday afternoon in the league, with the Whites Chapel nine meeting the Magnolia Oilers at the Municipal Park and the Humble nine going to Blooming Grove for a contest. The American Well and Bazette nines will be idle on that date, having played their scheduled contest for Wednesday as the first game of a doubleheader in Kerens on Independence Day.

Roaming the Realm — or — County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN

There will be action a plenty in the Navarro County Baseball league from now on until the end of the season, with the teams scheduled to play three games a week during the last five weeks, thus completing the twenty game schedule in seven weeks instead of the ten it took for the initial round.

The Magnolia Oilers continue to hold the lead in the league with four victories and no defeats. The contest Wednesday afternoon between the Oilers and the American Well Gumbo Busters being called at the eighth inning on account of darkness, the score being 5 all, due to a healthy wallop off the bat of Manager Paul Rash which put the Gumbo Busters on even terms with the Oilers in the last half of the seventh inning.

Beauford Barnes, manager of the Humble nine, pitched his team to a 6-3 victory over the White Chapel aggregation Wednesday afternoon, striking out ten men and allowing only six hits. Dean Stover stocky catcher for the White Chapel nine, was a pain in the side of Barnes, nicking his delivery for a double and triple.

Muncy, Humble rightfielder, continues to hit the ball at a terrific clip and has now established himself as the most dangerous batsmen in the league. Adolph Ruth, Magnolia handyman, also has won the respect of the opposition by his heavy clouting in the pinches. These two old timers are showing the ambitious ball players in the league something about the art of pounding the pellet.

Gus Westbrook, veteran of many campaigns in amateur baseball circles in the county, is pitching splendid baseball for the Bazette nine, being credited with one loss and three victories. His loss was registered in the first game of a double-header played July 4, in Kerens with the American Well Gumbo Busters in which Cecil Bondurant hit a home run with two on base. The final score was 3-2, and was really a hard luck game to lose, Westbrook allowing three hits, one of which was a home run.

There are several players in the league that have ambitions of becoming professional ball players we have been told. We are certain that several of the Texas league clubs would be willing to send a scout over here for some of the contests in the event the players stacked up as good as recommended. It is possible that scouts from the above league will lamp the boys during the last few days of the season and several players might have a chance to sign contracts.

CLAIMED BUSINESS CONDITIONS GROW STEADILY BETTER

NEW YORK, July 17.—(AP)—Two opinions from heads of large industrial corporations that business conditions now are recovering appeared today.

Lammont DuPont, president of the E. I. DuPont De Nemours Corp., is reported by Dow, Jones & Co., as having advised heads of departments and presidents of subsidiaries that conditions still seem sound and the foundation for returning prosperity seems even more secure in that basic commodity prices have declined and interest rates are low. Mr. DuPont is also chairman of the board of General Motors corporation.

David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, said on sailing for Europe that his company's production is now being speeded up. "The radio industry," he added, "has passed through a very trying stage and it is just about able now to sense the turn toward improved conditions." He said the earnings statement for the first half would not be very encouraging, but that it is now confidently hoped that the last half will be more satisfactory.

Navarro County Teacher Lost Her Case Before Board

AUSTIN, July 15.—(AP)—The state board of education at its monthly meeting today upheld decision of Superintendent S. M. N. in a marriage case from Navarro county, without, however, dealing with the marriage phases of the case.

The case was that of Mrs. Mary Ruth Holliday Bennett, whose contract was broken at the Union rural high school in Navarro county because she was married while teaching. Superintendenet Marrs sustained the local board's action in dismissing her, because Mrs. Bennett did not file her appeal within thirty days.

REGENTS OF STATE UNIVERSITY ORDER BUILDING PLANS

The University of Texas board of regents Wednesday ordered the University architect to prepare plans and specifications for the erection of a new four-story class room to be erected on the southeast portion of the original 40-acre campus, Beauford H. Jester, regent, stated here Thursday afternoon after his return from the regents' meeting.

This new building will be located slightly southeast of the old B Hall and east of Garrison Hall, and will house the department of business administration in addition to furnishing class room space for many of the classes now being held in the old shacks in that sector.

It is estimated that the building will be completed in time to be used during the 1931-32 long session of the University. The shacks now located on the southeast side of the campus will remain for use in the 1930-31 sessionu except those necessary to be removed for the actual site of the new structure.

No estimate of the cost of the new classroom will be available until the plans and specifications have been completed.

Former Cashier Ft. Worth Bank Pleads Guilty

FORT WORTH, July 15.—(AP)—Clyde Belew, former cashier of the Stockyards National Bank, pleaded guilty today before Judge Wilson in federal district court to a charge of embezzling $28,402.34 from the bank on June 8, 1929. He was indicted Monday.

Judge Wilson took the case under advisement and set bond at $5,000, which was furnished. Sentence probably will be passed at the November term of court. Judge Wilson was told the money has been restored to the bank.

ALLISON COMPLETES GOOD PRODUCER FOR BARNSDALL COMPANY

The Barnsdall Oil Company's LeRoy Roberts No. 1, in the West Pettus pool in Bee county was completed today and is now making 400 barrels of oil a day, of 49 gravity, according to information received Thursday afternoon from Fred M. Allison, drilling contractor.

It was pointed out by Mr. Allison the well could be expected to considerably increase the production after the hole had been cleaned out.

Much development is expected to be under way in the Pettus pool immediately where the Barnsdall company has considerable holdings.

Mr. Allison is drilling for the Barnsdall company in both Texas and Oklahoma pools.

A number of Corsicana operators are interested in the Pettus pool.

SAUNDERS STORES GET RECEIVERSHIP IN FEDERAL COURT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 16.—(AP)—The Clarence Saunders Stores, Inc., operating unit of 160 stores in the mid-South and Southwest, today formally was under the control of Leslie M. Stratton of Memphis, by virtue of a federal court order naming Stratton sole receiver.

The order was entered yesterday after a hearing before Judge Harry Anderson of a petition filed by three creditors. The court ruled over the objections of attorneys representing Myrtle, Rawls & Donaldson, New York bankers, holders of notes aggregating $500,000 that the receivership was imperative. Stratton was bonded for $50,000.

At the time of the filing of the petition Monday Saunders entered an answering bill but yesterday withdrew his objection. A report also was made that directors of the stores unit had adopted a resolution making admission of insolvency.

Saunders said he would assist the receiver in any way he could if his aid was desired. He planned, however, to go to the Pacific Coast to look after his stores there, the Clarence Saunders Pacific Company, operating stores in Los Angeles and Oakland and the Clarence Saunders Corporation, holder of royalty rights. Neither the Pacific Company nor the Clarence Saunders Corporation was involved in the proceedings here and are entirely separate from the Clarence Saunders Stores, Inc., he said.

LATEST MODEL OF "MOUNTAIN" TYPE LOCOMOTIVES HERE

Two of the latest model Baldwin "mountain" type locomotives passed through Corsicana early Wednesday morning en route from the Philadelphia factory to the Sacramento division.

The two engines were slightly larger than the group that passed through Corsicana about a year ago, and are the second largest locomotives in the world. Each of the units of boiler and tender measures 125 feet in length with a weight of 352 1-2 tons. The tender has a fuel capacity of 162,500 gallons of fuel oil.

The new units are capable of hauling an 85-car train over the Sierra Nevada mountains without assistance. They have been on the road 28 days out of Philadelphia, and will probably require 15 more to reach their destination. Messengers William Redden and Charlie Morod were in charge of the new locomotives.

Ben Richards Is Now Serving Prison Term

DALLAS, July 15.—(AP)—Lee Simmons, manager of the Texas penitentiary, today telegraphed the Dallas county sheriff's office that Ben Richards, former Dallas political leader, had surrendered himself at the prison and started his servitude of three years for forgery.

Richards was convicted as an aftermath to a bet on outcome of the Connally-Mayfield senatorial election in 1928. It was alleged he forged the payee's name to a $1,000 check put up as stakes.

Orville Matthews, Dallas banker, holder of the stakes, was shot to death in a controversy over the wager. V. Ray Adams of Belton, who, with W. Tom Ramsay, claimed the money, was acquitted of murder in connection with the shooting of Matthews.

Richards had presented himself at the penitentiary several days ago and asked admittance, but his commitment papers had not been received at that time. The papers arrived there last Friday.

In his wire Simmons said Richards had been in communication with penitentiary officials every day.

Under the Sterling Plan Taxes Will Be Reduced in Navarro County

The taxpayers of Navarro County, including the farmers, home-owners and business men are now assessed an average tax of approximately $1.00 on the $100.00 valuation to pay for the construction of State Highways, a tax that should be borne by the State.

Under the Sterling Tax Reduction Plan

the State will assume this obligation and pay for it out of the gasoline tax.

The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan will place the burden of paying for the state roads your county has built on the traffic, where it belongs.

The Sterling Plan will provide the state with adequate funds to build a connected state system of hard surfaced, all-weather highways and for paving the gaps over the state without county aid and without increasing the gasoline tax one penny.

R. S. STERLING
Houston
Candidate for Governor

The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan provides that no property tax shall ever be levied to carry out its purpose.

Vote for R. S. Sterling
and
LOWER TAXES

Explanatory Note. The estimated reduction in the tax rate has been calculated in accordance with the best available information. The exact figure will depend upon varying conditions in each county. But that a material reduction of the ad valorem taxes would be affected under the plan is certain.

CORSICANA, TEX., JULY 18, 1930

WHY BASCOM SLEMP WILL NOT RUN.

It is being explained in some Republican newspapers that C. Bascom Slemp's refusal to accept the Congressional nomination for his old seat in Virginia, and his lack of interest in the proposal that he enter the race for United States Senator from the Old Dominion against Senator Carter Glass, is due to his desire to retain his present party position as National Committeeman and high priest for the Virginia G. O. P.

Considering that Mr. Slemp has been an avid candidate for the Republican national chairmanship, for the Postmaster-Generalship, or anything else that Mr. Hoover might be willing to hand out, the explanation is hardly satisfactory. Moreover, it is not of record that Senators surrender their membership in the national party organization and the circumstances that our most successful party bosses continue to be United States Senators — Penrose and Hanna being historic examples—makes the explanation still less satisfying.

Actualy, Mr. Slemp's reason for refusing to be a candidate in 1930 is exactly the same as that which induced Senator Edge of New Jersey to grab an ambassadorship; that took Senator Sackett of Kentucky out of politics and into the diplomatic service; that caused Senator Phips of Colorado and Senator Goff of West Virginia to decline renomination.

This unusual list of retreats from political careers of United States Senators is due simply to the circumstance that the prospects for Republican members of the national legislature are particularly gloomy this year. Slemp would have been delighted to run for the Senatorship if he thought there was any chance of a Republican Senator being elected from Virginia. Had Governor Pollard of that state been defeated by his Hoovercratic competitor, or had Senator Simmons prevailed in the North Carolina primaries, nothing could have kept Slemp from making the race for the Senate.

His decision is a tribute to his political sense. He is being blamed by his party because he is not willing to make the sacrifice for the administration that his candidacy would involve. There is another side to the picture. Slemp, perhaps more than any other single individual, was responsible for Hoover's carrying Virginia and North Carolina in 1928. His part was indicated by the testimony that crept out during the lobby investigation which showed that it was Slemp who brought Bishop Cannon to Angel Jamieson, who came across with $75,000 or $100,000, which the Bishop so far has evaded accounting for. It is not of record that Mr. Jamieson ever figured as a large contributor to political campaign funds before. Whether it was his own money or not every man must guess for himself. At all events it was Slemp who induced the contributions. He naturally expected that a grateful president would reward him but Mr. Hoover has turned him down on every occasion. Perhaps that too may be in his mind when he refuses to go into a losing fight, even to oblige the administration.

A large amount of gasoline will soon be under way in Corsicana. The school building program has already started and will be completed by the opening [illegible] and healthy growth.

JUST FOLKS

THOUGHTS ON A HOT DAY

In summer time when skies are blue,
When winds are cool and sweet,
'Tis nice to loaf the long day through,
But men on weary feet
Go marching down the road all day
And may not put their cares away.

They may not put their burdens down,
Or quit their toilsome tasks,
'Tis theirs to trudge the sweltering town
And do what duty asks.
To haunts where cooling breezes blow
The sweltering thousands may not go.

Sometimes when in the shade I lie,
Contended and serene,
I see the toilers trudging by—
And ndless shifting scene—
And wish that I could set them free
To come and rest and dream with me.

'Tis theirs to brave the sweltering heat
Where never breeze goes by
I hear them trudging through the street.
I hear tired mothers sigh
And wonder what God thinks about
The way His His joys are parceled out.

MONEY AND THE COLLEGE.

The University of Pennsylvania has compiled its budget for the academic year 1930-31. There will be a deficit of $275,831. The year indicated will be the fourth in succession in which operating expenses will exceed income.

It is the tragedy of American higher education that there is no uniformity and little order in its financing.

Some fortunate unversities are almost over-endowed. Some, like Pennsylvania, are considerably under-endowed. Many depend on a curious combination of annual gifts and state and city appropriations to keep running.

None of these conditions is the best for a university which would like to follow out its destiny rigorously and unswervingly; to seek, in the absolute sense, for the truth; to enable natural leaders to teach frankly what their experience has shown them of the world.

The old saw that the ideal university is a great teacher on one end of a log, and a boy on the other, is dead. The university of today must have a plant of considerable size, must spend millions. There is little left to be learned in the armchair, and laboratories cost money.

When the money comes from many places the university itself is harassed, and there are too many fingers in the academic pie. Willy-nilly, institutions which accept great sums from wealthy men are influenced by these men. Nobody throws bricks at Santa Claus.

Every criticism which has been leveled at the colleges has had its origin in the results of this crazy-quilt financing. These remarks are not directed at Penn or any other college. They merely state something that everyone knows; reflect a public doubt as to what might be called pure academic righteousness.

Take away that money influence, and some of the most liberal of colleges would surprise and confound their critics. Just now they live under an economic shadow, far-reaching in its results; perhaps not permanently affecting youth—youth knows too much for that!—but certainly closing off legitimate avenues for the expression of useful if novel ideas.

FORGOTTEN RACES

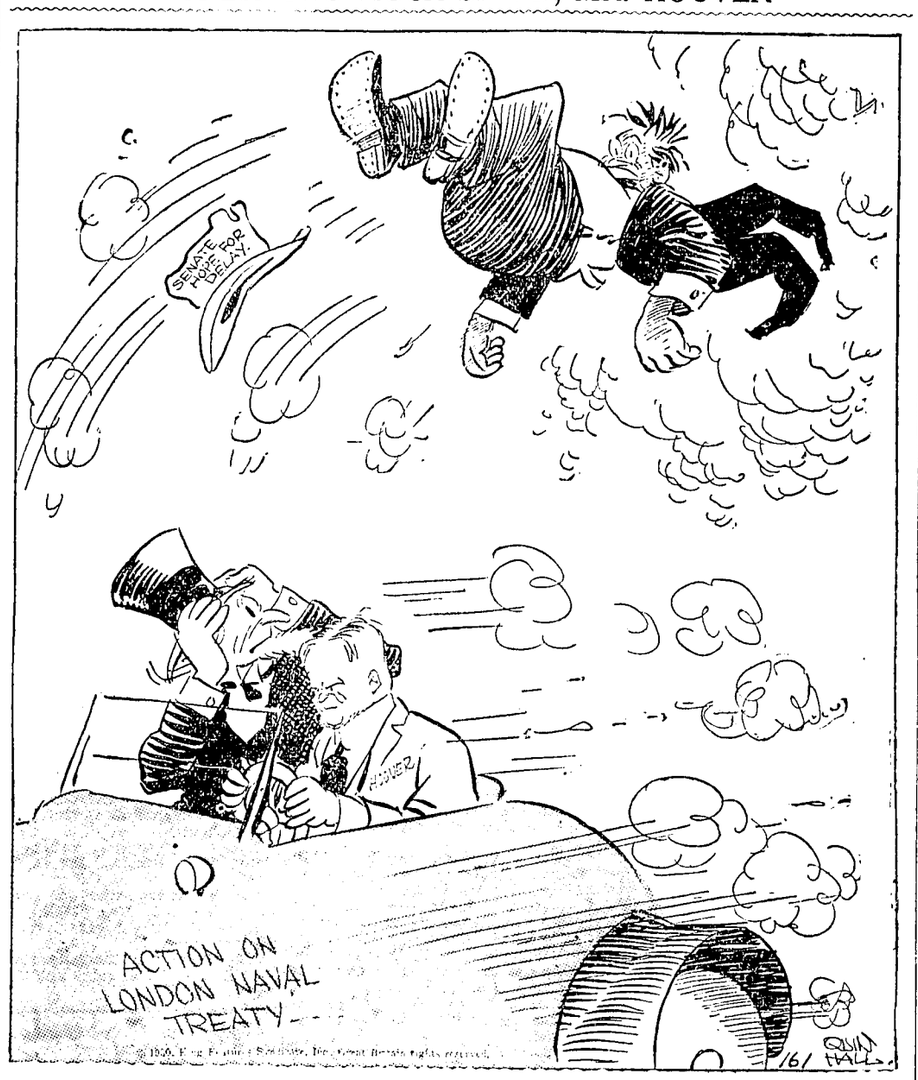

Races have left their heraldic devices, so to speak, upon the walls of the past in every country of the earth, and then passed out of existence and often out of knowledge. No anthropological or archaeological evidences of the earliest existence of mankind upon the planet have brought conviction as to the origin of man, in respect to either to place or manner.

The theory of evolution serves a useful purpose and finds all the support necessary to make it a working hypothesis in explaining how mankind may have come up from a unicellular organism. Its best informed advocates are the most reluctant to consider it as being as certain as the stages [illegible] that Jack built." In the myriad evolutions and devolutions of mankind upon the earth—processes governed not a little by differences and changes in climate—it would be strange if the laboratory of nature had turned out but one model of man, or man of a single determinate biological lineage. This science admits.

The matter of fixing on the cradle of the race has long troubled science, and, due to recent expeditions, is of unusual speculative interest at this time. As long as it still remains a mystery, America has a right to put forward its claims to habitability in eras of remote antiquity, even if the cradle may not be found in this hemisphere. That cradle has been upset time and again by fresh discoveries of man-made relics.

Evidences of a race older than the Indians have been found in the United States, and the civilization of the basket weavers of the Southwest is said to be 4000 years old. Here in America the age of earliest man is in process of being pushed back not only by centuries but by aeons.

A BIT TOO MUCH SPEED, MR. HOOVER

THE BILLION DOLLAR HEN.

Producing an annual income of more than $1,000,000,000, or approximately one-tenth of the farm income of the nation, the poultry industry of the United States is entitled to the representation it is to have at the fourth world's poultry congress in London this month. Neither the farmer nor the government underestimates the value of this business to agriculture and the nation.

After the adjournment of the London congress gourmets should be able to obtain in any foreign country chicken dishes prepared a la American. The federal government has prpared for general circulation at the congress a booklet presenting the biography, achievements and economic value of Biddy Americanus, the American hen.

This little missionary carrying abroad the message of "chicken a la Maryland" and roast turkey stuffed with chestnuts contains departments of interest and value to chicken raisers, and as a whole cannot help but contribute to the welfare of the United States and the honor of the American hen.

Secretary Hyde has contributed the foreword, assuring the world that "the future welfare of this great industry is so closely linked with technical, educational and commercial development in other countries that the United States seeks the inspiration that arises from poultry discussions of international scope."

"WHY?"

As we have been asked "Why?" some ninety-four million times during the past few years and as we are well aware of the fact that this same "Why?" is constantly asked in Corsicana homes where there are children we are reproducing an editorial appearing in the Christian Science Monitor recently feeling that it will be thoroughly appreciated by all parents who read it. The editorial follows:

"If you haven't a little son, nephew, other relative or friend between two and seven years old, you need not read this.

"That infants become human question marks doubtless has been an annoyance since the time of our remote ancestors. It is unthinkable that primitive man escaped such inquiries as, "Which is stronger, a lion or a tiger? What makes a rainbow? Why do flowers bloom?

"Later, development enlarged the question box. By putting greater emphasis on the special phases of civilized life, it aroused these inquiries: "Can't I go barefooted today, Mother? Why? Why do I have to take a bath tonight? Why must I eat my cereal before cakes and sirup?"

"The machine age brought not only more toys and devices for play; it led to more questions about man's workaday world: 'What makes a street car run? How does the electricity get into the trolley wire? How does it make the car run, then?" Attracted by an airplane, the three-year-old gazes into the dimming twilight and sees a star, apparently near the flier. Suddenly he exclaims:

"'Oh, look Daddy! An airplane ran over a star. Why didn't it break it?'

"Each generation of children seems to ask the same old questions and some new ones besides. Is it any wonder that modern youth is slightly sophisticated if he gets one-tenth of his questions answered? After all, however, it is the eternal 'why' which has been responsible for all the material advances of the twentieth century. Why should one wish to stop it?"

In any further issue between Mr. Franklin, the Brooklyn toreador, and the ferocious bulls of Spain, we are only a 49 per cent American, if that.

If one borrows money it is better to be a nation than an individual. A nation is given more time in which to pay.

A sucker by any other name would still expect 20 per cent dividends.

CHEYENNE BOTTOMS REFUGE.

Another important step was taken in providing for adequate sanctuary for waterfowl in the United States when the so-called Cheyenne Bottoms Migratory Bird Refuge Bill was signed by President Hoover and became a law on Thursday, June 12th, according to the American Game Protective Association News service.

This bill has been pending in Congress for the last two sessions. It was introduced in the Senate by Senator Henry J. Allen of Kansas and in the House by Congressman Clifford R. Hope of the same state and was in charge of these two members during its entire course through Congress. It failed to receive a vote during the first session in which it was introduced but was pressed more vigorously at the last session and was first passed in the Senate April 10, 1930, carrying an appropriation of $300,000 for the purchase of not exceeding 20,000 acres of marsh land in what is known as the Cheyenne Bottoms in Burton County, Kansas. When the bill reached the House it was suggested by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget that the funds for the purpose be deducted from the $600,000 appropriation authorized for the Norbeck-Andresen Migratory Bird Conservation Act due to be appropriated for the year beginning July 1, 1931. Objection to this arose as an interference with the purpose of the Norbeck-Andresen Act and the Bureau of the Budget was persuaded to approve a special appropriation of $250,000 instead of $300,000; whereupon the bill was amended to correspond with this recommendation and was passed by the House of Representatives on Monday, June 9th. On the following day the amendments were accepted in the Senate and the bill was passed by that body. On Thursday, June 12th, it was signed by President Hoover and became a law.

The provisiosn of the bill require that the $250,000 appropriated, or so far thereof as will be necessary, be used to purchase or otherwise acquire the land desired. The bill does not contain any provision for future maintenance.

Other amendments were added to the bill while it was under consideration by the House having to do with the administration of it by the Secretary of Agriculture and which provisions are similar to those contained in the Norbeck-Andresen Migratory Bird Conservation Act.

It is fortunate that Congress acted so promptly in this legislation for the reason that proceedings were already under way to drain this area, which would render it unfit for migratory bird refuge purposes.

BURNING UP MILLIONS

During May the total loss was $38,415,142 — $6,285,734 more than in May 1929. The total of the first five months of this year is estimated to be above $210,521,000, which corresponds with $196,487,000 for the same period of last year. If the present trend continues, the 1930 waste will exceed that of 1929 by more than $30,000,000.

When over a two year period, appreciable declines in our fire loss were recorded, it was believed that America was at last becoming "fire conscious." Apparently this optimism was not justified. We are again on our way to a new record.

We cannot plead ignorance. Various public and private organizations have worked intensively to show us the danger of fire and how to prevent it. Each year we have a nationally-observed Fire Prevention Week. There is only one sound reason for the gigantic waste—carelessness.

We put off wiring inspection; we drop tobacco and matches wherever we happen to finish with them; we lazily leave piles of trash in corners of garages and basements.

We do everything that may cause fire, and almost nothing to prevent it. It is only natural that our annual waste should be the greatest in the world.

Every year the American people contribute about $500,000,000 to fire waste. It is destroyed just as thoroughly as if we threw currency in the stove. That is worth thinking about.

ELECTION RETURNS.

The Corsicana Daily Sun and Semi-Weekly Morning Light will announce election returns Saturday night, July 26, as has been the custom of these two papers in the past. As members of the Texas Election Bureau a special election wire will be installed in the Sun-Light building by which state returns will be received. The county returns will be phoned the Sun office by the various election officials holding the elections at the county voting places. These figures will be received and tabulated by a staff of trained men and the totals will be flashed on a screen directly in front of the Sun-Light building as well as announced to the crowds through a public address system. Every effort will be made to give returns as complete as possible the night of the election and all Corsicana and Navarro county are cordially invited to attend the Sun and Light election party.

CURINGTON RALLY HELD MONDAY NIGHT COURT HOUSE LAWN

A large crowd was present at the John R. Curington rally on the lawn of the Navarro county courthouse Monday night at 8 o'clock when Curington, candidate for county attorney, spoke in the interest of his candidacy, and discussed the issues which he declared were in the campaign. It was a quiet, orderly gathering, including many women. As soon as the rally had been concluded, Curington left for Union High school, south of Dawson, where he spoke for the second time during the night. J. H. Bryant presided at the Curington rally here.

Curington was the only speaker on the program. He said that he had invited his three opponents to meet with him in the rally, but neither was present.

Only a small crowd was reported at the county speaking date at Union High school, according to candidates Tuesday morning who attended the meeting. It was stated that several revival metings in the Union High school vicinity apparently curtailed the attendance.

Rice is on the program for the candidates' addresses Tuesday evening. Due to a revival meeting in progress in Rice, the speaking will not begin until 8:40 o'clock tonight. A large crowd is anticipated at the Rice meeting, with a large representation from the northern Navarro county communities and also from Corsicana expected.

Streetman will be visited Wednesday where a picnic is to be held. The speaking will begin in the late afternoon, according to information received here Tuesday morning.

The candidates will visit Oak Grove at a picnic Thursday and the originally scheduled speaking date for Thursday night at Raleigh has been changed to Dresden at the Shingle Arbor near the cemetery, due to the fact that no suitable place for the speaking was available at Raleigh, it was stated Tuesday morning.

Cryer Creek is to be visited Friday night and the week will be concluded at Drane Saturday evening.

Pat Geraughty, chairman of the candidates' association in charge of making arrangements for speaking dates, and other details incident to the tours in the county, stated Tuesday that some changes would probably be made in the schedule for next week, the final week prior to the first primary, but nothing definite has been determined. He said that the revised schedule would probably be perfected and announced Wednesday or Thursday.

Texas Youth Is Identified As Bank Robber

GUTHRIE, Okla., July 11.—(AP)—Johnnie Gunter, arrested Monday at Gainesville, Texas, yesterday was identified by H. C. Wehrenberg, cashier of the First State Bank of Lovell, Okla., as one of two men who robbed the bank June 26 of $184.

Fay Hoover, employe of a Lovell restaurant, also named Gunter as oen of the robbers.

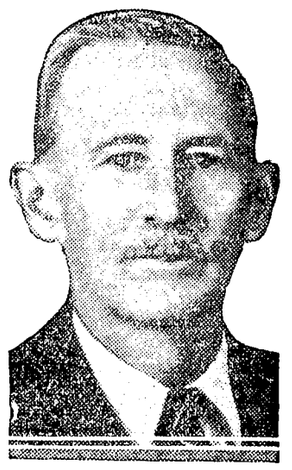

Identification was made when Gunter was taken to Lovell by Logan county officers.

A woman who was questioned said Gunter and a companion ate in a restaurant before going to the bank. The two presented a check and while Wehrenberg was examining it, pulled guns and demanded small silver, leaving a much larger amount in currency in the bank.

Charges have not yet been filed, but officers said Gunter probably would be tried here before being returned to Texas to complete a term in the reformatory at Gainesville.

SARGON GAVE HIM A NEW "GRIP ON LIFE"

a new grip on life.

"Outside of rheumatic pains, my kidneys were too free-acting, I had severe pains across my back and was in bad shape every way. Sargon changed everything for me. Every pain is gone, my kidneys don't worry me, I've gained 15 pounds and my whole system is invigorated and strengthened.

"Sargon Pills toned up my liver and regulated my bowels and I've never had a minute's trouble with my stomach being upset like always happened with other laxatives."—John J. Graham, 1509 W. 10th St., Oklahoma City.

CROP CONDITIONS IN NAVARRO COUNTY EXCEPTIONALLY FINE

"Crop conditions at the present time in Navarro county are especially fine looking," Calvin Pigg, county demonstration agent, stated Tuesday afternoon. He said that cotton was fruiting rapidly and was not shedding the forms as is often the case in dry weather. He stated, however, that a rain would be needed shortly, especially for the young cotton. The crop of maize, hegari, feterta and other similar grains is unusually fine this year as no rains were experienced during the critical stages of the growth while in bloom.

Corn is spotted, in some instances being a good crop, while in other instances, having burned up and with little or no yield.

The hay crops are fine this year especially the sorghums which predominate in acreage in the county. The dry weather of the past few days has been very favorable for the harvesting of the hay crop.

Speaking of the corn, Mr. Pigg stated that there were numerous instances of where farmers had planted one row of corn and one row of peas. He said that where this had been followed, the corn was still green and a good yield would result, and often just across the fence or the road a corn field was planted without being alternated with peas the crop was extremely short and the corn had already burned up.

Most of the hay this year is sorghum, with some alfalfa.

Cotton is holding its own and fruiting heavily and is not throwing off any forms, Mr. Pigg continued, but young cotton would need rain soon. The older cotton has long tap roots which are reaching the moisture.

Railroad Man Is Breeder Fine Cattle

TEAGUE, July 16.—(Spl)—J. W. Brown, citizen of Teague and engineer on the Valley Road, is also a breeder of high bred Hereford cattle. In a recent trades day at North Zulch, where his ranch is located, he won first on old male, first and second on old cow, and first and second on yearling heifer.

Mr. Brown has been devoting attention to good Herefords for the past four years and has some of the best foundation stock in the country.

Little Girl Died At Chatfield Home; Burial Wednesday

Erma Sue Meadows Shipp, four and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Shipp of Chatfield, died at the family home Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock after an illness of nine days and the funeral will be held at the Chatfield cemetery Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock where interment will be made.

The funeral will be conducted by Rev. A. C. Carraway, assistant pastor of the First Methodist church here, and former pastor of the Chatfield Methodist church.

The funeral will be directed by the Sutherland Funeral Home.

IN MEMORIAM

On May 30, 1930, the Death Angel visited the home of Mr. George Jordon and took from him his loving wife, Mrs. Ollie Jordon. It was so hard to give her up, but God knows best.

Ollie was a true Christian, always ready to help any one in need. She was married October 4, 1920 to George Jordon. To 8this union four children were born, Dortha, Brewster and Jaunita, one child dying in infancy.

To the broken-hearted husband and mother: Weep not for she is at rest with Jesus. To her family Ollie was ever faithful and true. To know her was to love her.

The home will be dark and lonely without her, but strive to live a life to meet her on that bright and happy shore.

Ollie had been sick on a short time, her death came as a shock to the entire community.

Beside her husband and children, she leaves a broken-hearted mother, Mrs. Dezzie French, four brothers and three sisters, Virce, Cecile, Rankin and Rodney French, Mrs. George Putman, Mrs. Leo Hubbard and Miss Florence French.

She was laid to rest in Emmett cemetery.

A loved one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is still,
A chair is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.

She is safe in the arms of Jeus,
In that land so fair,
Weep not dear ones, obey God's rules,
Some day you'll meet her there.

CHILDREN GIVE PROGRAM

TEAGUE, July 16. (Spl)—The children from the Boles Orphans Home of Greenville, Texas, staged a program here Monday evening at the First Church of Christ. An interesting program was rendered and a large crowd attended.

One Man's Greatness Won Nationhood For His People

Moses, The Courageous Leader, A Huge Human Figure in a Dark Day—Intimate Glimpses of His Background --- Modern Men of Moses Mold.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

This is the story of a man who did something about it, Moses, the Liberator. His name is on all lists of immortals, and his influence upon mankind has been matched by only One other. He began his career with a swift, hot, unreasoned blow against injustice; and his whole life was devoted to the cause of human liberation under law.

Once we pause to consider the subject, it becomes clear that the real leaders of men and servants of their generation are those who, facing human wrongs, actually do something about it. There is not much merit in being interested in problems (though a large tribe of men and women make their livelihood in that fashion!) unless anxiety leads to action.

A Roll-Call of Leaders.

Call the roll of the outstanding men of the present generation, the emancipators and rebuilders of nations, and we find them all possessed of this Moses-quality of action. Consider Sun Yat Sen, of China; Mustapha Kema Pasha of Turkey, President Maseryck, of Czecho-Slovakia; Mahatma Ghandhi, of India; Ibn Saoud, of Arabia; Saad Zagloul Pasha of Egypt; Lenin of Russia; Riza Khan of Persia—to cite only overseas men—and they all followed in the train of Moses. Burdened by the injustices suffered by their people, they did something about it; and, incidentally, came to greatness themselves.

If there is one immediate, practical message spoken by Moses to the men of today, it is this one of the necessity of doing something about the human problems of our own time. We are confronted, first by the grave issue of the world-wide unemployment, which creates fertile soil for the growth of all other problems. Then there looms ever on the horizon of possibility, war, handmaid of imperialism. Illiteracy, child-exploitation, class-consciousness and class-oppression along with the inequitable distribution of wealth and power; the liquor and drug habits; and the unsettlement of standards of belief and of conduct in the realm of religion and morals. Almost it seems as of the task of Moses were simple and uncomplicated, when compared with those which await his successors who, like him, are willing to do something about it.

An Archaeological Quarrel.

A hundred generations of children have loved the story of how the baby Moses was saved from the death decreed by a tyrannous pharoah, by being put into a pitch daubed boat of bullrushes and placed in the waters of the Nile river, where the Egyptian princess would be sure to discover him. His nurture in a palace, where, he became learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, is also a familiar part of this beloved tale.

There is a new chapter to this story, known to all who follow the developments of archaeology. Several years ago, Prof. Flinders Petrie found in south Sinai a stone with what he reported as a commonplace inscription, of about the period of the Exodus. Studying the stone more carefully, Prof. Grimm, a distinguished German archaeologist, announced that the stone really bore an elaborate record, written by Moses of his appreciation of the Egyptian princess who had saved and trained him.

Naturally, this created a sensation of the first order. Other Egyptologists studied the stone, and mostly sided with Dr. Petrie. But Dr. Grimm sticks to his contention that the stone contains a veritale record by Moses himself, expressing his gratitude to his foster-mother. While we of the general public must await fuller confirmation before taking sides, we at least have a wholeome reminder that archaeologists are not infallible. The incident clearly reveals the foolish gullibility of that large group of people who accept as true every reading and opinion of archaeologists, while rejecting the tested records of Scripture. We already know enough of Moses, from the narrative he has left in the Pentateuch, without bothering ourselves overmuch about a single bit of inscribed stone concerning which the expert decipherers of heiroglyphics cannot agree.

Glimpses of Sinai.

I am not quite sure whether to be glad or sorry that it is nowadays possible for favored folk, possessed of the necessary official permissions, to go to Mount Sinai by automobile. Motoring militates against meditation; whereas camel riding—after the first bodily tortures are over—tends to contemplation. And Mount Sinai should be sacred to serious thoughts.

For it was there, throughout long, lonely years, wherein the world had forgotten him and his killing of the Egyptian oppressor, that Moses found himself and found God. This is not the place to describe the majestic solitudes of Sinai; nor the sublime and awesome vistas from the peak of the Mountain of Law. I owe too much to my own leisurely sojourn there to write lightly upon the subject.

Moses had ample time to riven his own soul. Apart from men, he learned man. In solitude he got strength to deal with the multitude. His long quiet time gave him his message. Our hurried era need superlatively the mood of meditation. Clever "wisecracking" characterizes us, rather than deep philosophy. Our popular speakers and writers are glib, but not great. The strength of solitude is needed as the shaft of our mental spear.

Courage for the Crowd.

Even wise men are often strangely muddled in their conceptions of what constitutes power. Craft, prudence, shrewdness, sophistication—these are not greatness. Pharoah's courtiers could out-subtle Moses. He, however, had the two essentials of greatness which they lacked; an intense moral conviction, amounting to a dominant life passion; and an overwhelming sense of being God's man. In Sinai he had learned the Divine purpose for his life; and in learning this he had acquired courage, and a program.

One of the peculiar qualities of the really great man is that he has to be great for all of his followers and fellows. They live by his strength. He must supplement their weakness. Their patience and constancy and loyalty are sure to fail; in that hour, he must make up in his own spirit for their lack. There was nothing heroic in the horde of Hebrew slaves; without Moses or his equivalent to fulfill Gods' promises to them, they would have dragged out an uneventful existence as the unhappy drudges of Egyptian taskmasters. Their hope of nationhood rested upon the character of this man Moses, their self-revealer, their leader, their teacher, their deliverer. That marvel is being repeated every day in communities, groups, chruches, families, institutions, industries. The one makes the many.

When the Law Came Down.

No honest observer of our times will deny that this is a lawless age. Corporations and individuals habitually evade and disobey the law. Bar associations and thoughtful public me nare continually pointing out the grave consequences involved n this spirit of disregard for law. Of all the services that Moses is rendering to contemporary life, the greatest—exceding even his insistence upon the sacredness of nationalism—is taht he stands for Law, immutable, changeless, universal, divinely revealed Law.

With a yearning which I cannot put into words, I longed, as I stood atop the lightning-riven rocks of Sinai's peak, that all preachers and teachers, and al lother leaders of men, might share that experience; and brooding there, acquire a new sense of the primary place that the revealed Law of God must have in the life of individuals and of nations. Somehow, the majesty and secredness and necessity of the Decalogue floods the soul that looks out on the world from his hallowed spot. Here was given the remedy for al lour social ills. None of man's clever devisings have improved upon this program, pronounced by God Himself. For us, as for the Hebrews, Moses is supremely the Law-giver.

Robert Root, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Root of Port Arthur, died Tuesday night at 7 o'clock after a long illness, and the funeral will be held at Lufkin sometime Thursday, Mrs. George W. Boyd, aunt of the youth, was advised by telephone Tuesday night.

Mrs. Boyd, accompanied by her daughter, Mary Elizabeth, and son, Mitchell, went to Lufkin Wednesday and will remain until after the funeral Thursday.

Surviving are his parents and three brothers.

The father of the boy was reared in Corsicana, but has not resided here for a number of years.

Closing Exercises For Summer School On Friday Evening

Commencement exercises for the summer school session will be held in the high school auditorium Friday night, July 18, at 8 o'clock, it was announced Wednesday by H. D. Fillers, Corsicana public school superintendent.

About 11 high school graduates and a few junior high school students will be given their diplomas, it was stated.

Bids Be Opened On Friday For Junior Hi School Building

Bids for the new Junior high school, which is to be constructed on Fourth Avenue, between 21 and 21 1-2 Streets, will be opened by the Corsicana board of education at the high school Friday morning at 10 o'clock, it was announced Wednesday. The date of opening the bids was originally set for Wednesday, July 16, but it was changed to Friday, July 18.

H. O. Blanding and M. T. Horn are the associate architects and J. S. Colley of Louisville, Ky., is the consulting architect.

RED'S LAKE NOW POPULAR RESORT IN FREESTONE COUNTY

TEAGUE, July 15.—(Spl).—One of the most daring business ventures ever contemplated in Freestone county is the completion of Red's Lake on the concrete east and west highway between Waco and Palestine.

According to R. S. Red, this venture has been contemplated for more than 50 years by various persons before he and his partner, S. A. Burleson, both of Wortham, carried the project through to completion.

What was formerly Jolly Cole Slough, a large creek fed by numerous underground springs, was dammed about a mile from the original source of the water. This enclosed a vast area between two long high hills which in time was completely filled with water. The lake comprises several hundred acres.

Former contemplators of this enterprise were afraid to invest in the venture for fear that the lake after construction would not hold water because of being drained by underground streams on account of the coarse texture of the soil. These men, Messrs. Red and Burleson, staked a fortune in the chance and won the magnificent gamble

The dam was completed in December, 1928, and the lake is filled almost to capacity. This place has been constructed into one of the most pleasant resorts in the entire county. A number of camp houses have been built, boats provided, motor boat rides made available, fishing is open to the public, and a large general merchandise store and filling station have been erected in close proximity to the lake for the convenience of campers and tourists.

The crowds of people who throng to this resort testify to its popularity. Corsicana people are beginning to take advantage of this popular resort and almost every evening Corsicana picnic parties visit the lake.

VOTERS OF RICE DISTRICT HEARD OFFICE SEEKERS

Speaking before a large crowd, county and precinct office-seekers put forth their claims and qualifications at Rice Tuesday evening in the second meeting of the week. The speaking did not start until after 9 o'clock in order not to conflict with a revival meeting in progress there.

The candidates were at a picnic at Streetman Wednesday and will speak late this afternoon in the interests of their candidacies. The picnic at Oak Grove will be visited Thursday and Dresden will be visited Thursday night. The Thursday night date was originally scheduled for Raleigh but was transferred to Dresden as no suitable places for the holding of the speaking was available in the Raleigh community.

Cryer Creek voters will be addressed Friday night and the week will be concluded at Drane Saturday night.

The only state candidate to speak in Navarro county this week will be Earle B. Mayfield, former senator, and now a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in the approaching democratic primary, who is to address Navarro county voters on the courthouse lawn Friday evening.

A large crowd is expected to hear Mayfield Friday night and a large delegation from the various communities in the county are expected to be on hand.

Cotton Ginners of Senatorial District Will Meet Friday

A meeting of all of the cotton ginners in this senatorial district has been called for Friday, July 18, at the Corsicana chamber of commerce by W. A. Sims of Frost. The session is scheduled for 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

New Way Found To Kill Snakes

WILLS POINT, July 15.—(Spl).—John Stafford, farmer living two miles south from Wills Point, reports a new way to kill snakes. Two years ago he dehorned a calf and has been using the horns for nest eggs since.

About a month ago he found a snake with one of the horns nearly swallowed and killed it. Last week he missed one horn and on investigation found a large snake had swallowed it. He says now he is using the horns for both nest eggs and snake bait.

Lad Injured When He Fell From Tree

Audrey Lee Redford, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Redford, 512 North Main street, was in the Navarro County Hospital Tuesday afternoon suffering from severe head injuries received about 1 p. m. Tuesday when he fell from a tree, striking the ground with his head.

The injured lad was playing in a neighbor's yard when the accident occurred.

Medical attention was given the lad at the hospital but at press time the exact extent of his injurieswas undetermined.

HIGHWAY BUILDING IN NAVARRO COUNTY IS WELL UNDER WAY

REPORT OF PROGRESS MADE TO C. OF C. SHOWS OVER MILLION IN WORK

A recapitulation of highway progress in Navarro county was presented at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the board of directors of the Corsicana chamber of commerce Tuesday morning by R. J. Jackson, chairman of the highway committee, showing that contracts totalling $1,044,804.77 were under construction.

An invitation was extended the directors to attend the all-day demonstration meeting to be held for the girls' and women's home demonstration clubs at the city park, Friday, July 18. The directors were also invited to attend a banquet to be held at the Navarro hotel Friday night to hear J. T. Orr of Dallas discuss farm rehabilitation. Representative bankers from all over the county have been invited to attend.

It was announced that the agricultural committee had appropriated funds for two scholarships for demonstration club girls to the annual summer short course at Texas A. and M. college.

The second quarterly joint meeting of the chamber of commerce and the service clubs will be held on July 29, with Lawrence Westbrook of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association as the principal speaker. The meeting will be held at the Navarro hotel.

The directors voted to schedule no meetings of the board in August, and they will meet only on call.

Red Cross Appreciative

Albert Evans, assistant national director of the American Red Cross disaster relief, appeared before the directors and thanked them for their cooperation and assistance in the work carried on in the storm stricken areas during the past nine weeks, declaring that it had been one of his most pleasant assignments. He presented a few figures to show the great amount of work that had been done.

Edward M. Polk, chamber president, expressed the appreciation of the chamber for the efforts of Mr. Evans and his co-workers. He was authorized by the board to prepare suitable resolutions to that effect.

In discussing the highways, Mr. Jackson called attention to the fact that highway 139 has been renumbered highway 22, and will go from Corsicana to Hillsboro by Frost and Blooming Grove and on to Meridian. The new road from Corsicana to Fort Worth will continue to be sought.

It is understood that the state is preparing to start work soon on highway 22, and the highway chairman pointed out that the county would have some credits for the work already done.

Highway Report

The highway report in full follows:

Highway No. 75: Largely through the efforts of the highway committee, and with the co-operation of Navarro county commissioners' court, the concrete contract is to be let on the stretch of road from Richland north to Corsicana July 31, although the highway commission passed a minute authorizing the highway engineer to advertise for bids on this road, certain restrictions were made which if not met by the commissioners court would have indefinitely postponed the concrete work, possibly until spring. It was only through having a representative in Austin that those conditions were learned of and this work listed for July letting.

An effort was made to get the dirt work, drainage structures and concrete contract on the four mile stretch through town let in July but this was found to be impossible due to engineering complications. We are assured of the dirt work and drainage structures contract in September and possibly the concrete also.

Highway No. 31: Through the efforts of your highway committee the commissioners court has agreed to put up $6000 which with $3500 raised by Kerens will be extended in procuring the right-of-way from two miles east of Powell to the Trinity river. The contract on this stretch of road would undoubtedly have been cancelled had not some arrangement for the buying of the right-of-way been made. Had this contract been cancelled, it is not at all unlikely that our county would have lost state aid amounting to approximately $400,000 on this ten miles of road.

Highway No. 139: The dirt and drainage structure contract on this highway was placed on the tentative list for letting in July but was withdrawn by the highway department early in July. Before the contract could be let, it was necessary that the plans be inked by the local engineer. Five days after these plans were supposed to have been mailed out of Austin, a representative of your highway committee got them in person and brought them to Corsicana. It was only through a strenuous effort made by the local engineer, utilizing their entire office force that these plans were gotten out in time to be in Austin this morning and assure the contract being let July 31.

An effort is to be made by your highway committee to get the highway department to let a contract for the concrete on No. 139 from Corsicana to Three Way Filling station in September in order that this road may be opened early in the winter.

Emhouse road—The contractor has moved his machinery on to the job and will begin pouring concrete as soon as jettying is completed. It is understood that the state is staking out the section of the road from Emhouse to the county line preparatory to the spreading of gravel.

Highway No. 32—Richland to Streetman, concrete	$150,386.29
Highway No. 14—Richland to Navarro county line, dirt work and drainage structures	48,662.46
Emhouse road—Four miles of concrete into Emhouse	89,750.00
Emhouse road—Gravel from Emhouse to Ellis county line	12,931.78
Highway No. 14—Dirt work and drainage structures from Corsicana to Ellis county line	234,602.11
Highway No. 31—Dirt work and drainage structures from Corsicana to two miles east of Powell	96,899.53
Highway No. 31—Chambers creek bridges	91,508.31
Highway No. 31—Dirt work and drainage structures from two miles east of Powell to Trinity river	83,366.48
Highway No. 31—Trinity river bridge	200,000.00
Highway No. 139—Dirt work and drainage structures contract—Corsicana to Three-Way Filling Station	36,697.81
The above contracts now actually under construction amounting to a total of	$1,044,804.77
Contracts to be let July 31:
Highway No. 14, concrete, Richland north to Corsicana (estimated)	$240,000.00
Highway No. 139—Dirt work and drainage structures contract from Three Way Filling Station south to district line	47,000.00
The above contracts which will be let this month are estimated to total	$287,224.00
Within another fifteen days there will be a total of	$1,332,028.77

worth of work actually under construction in Navarro county.

TICKET COMMITTEE FOR REPUBLICANS PLAN ELECTION

At the meeting of the ticket committee of the Navarro county Republican executive committee held here Tuesday afternoon, the official ballot for the Republican primary election, July 26, was prepared, and plans were perfected for the precinct conventions in the eight precincts at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, July 26. The county convention will be held in Corsicana, Aug. 2, when the returns of the primary election will be canvassed. Each precinct will be entitled to one delegate to the county convention for each 25 votes, or major fraction thereof, of the votes cast in the last election.

In two of the eight precincts, there are no candidates for the precinct chairmanship and it is expected that a precinct chairman will be elected in the precinct conventions.

Official Ticket.

Following is the official county ticket as announced Tuesday:

County Chairman, E. L. Dupuy; precinct chairmen, 1, Roy Canady, Jr.; 2, J. W. Holland; 3, W. T. Sharer; 4, W. H. Connor; 5, F. C. Butler; 6, Mrs. Jimmie E. Brown; 7 and 8, no candidates.

Following is the state Republican ticket which will appear on the ballot at the Republican primary as furnished the local committee by the state executive committee:

For United States Senator—Doran John Haesley, Dallas county; Harve H. Haines, Jefferson county, C. O. Harris, Tom Green county.

For Governor—George C. Butte, Travis county; Jack Elgin, Bexar county; H. E. Exum, Potter county; John Pollard Gaines, Wichita county; John F. Grant, Harris county.

For Lieutenant Governor—R. J. McMillan, Bexar county; H. B. Tanner, Eastland county; M. H. Thomas, Dallas county.

For Attorney General: George S. Atkinson, Dallas county; Wayland H. Sanford, Wichita county; Lytton R. Taylor, El Paso county.

For Comptroller of Public Accounts—Charles W. Beck, Hill county; Mrs. R. E. Dorsey, Dallas county; Mrs. P. A. Welty, Medina county.

For State Treasurer—C. W. Johnson, Jr., Young county; Ed Kind, Lamar county.

For State Superintendent of Public Instruction—Mrs. R. L. Cooper, Eastland county; Mrs. Hallet Raynolds, El Paso county; Mrs. Alma Baker Rea, Hamilton county.

For Commisisoner of the General Land Office—P. C. Beard, Tom Green county; Clarence C. Cooking, Anderson county.

For Railroad Commissioner—L. J. Benckenstein, Jefferson county; Harwood Stacy, Travis county; Charles D. Turner, Dallas county.

For Chief Justice Supreme Court—C. K. McDowell, Val Verde county.

For Justice of Court of Criminal Appeals—W. D. Girand, Lubbock county; W. S. West, Cameron county.

The Navarro county Republican organization is not putting out a ticket for county offices outside of the own party organization.

Man Accidentally Shot; Right Arm Badly Shattered

Manuel Santos, aged about 22 years, is in the Navarro County Hospital Thursday suffering from a shattered right arm received when the shotgun he was carrying with him on a trip for wood was accidentally discharged, the charge striking him in the right arm between the elbow and shoulder, shattering the bone.

He was reported to be resting as well as could be expected Thursday afternoon by hospital attaches.

CHALK WAS STRUCK IN KILLIAM OIL TEST NORTH OF CORSICANA

Striking the chalk about 1156 feet, drillers on the O. W. Killiam-Wilson No. 1, about five miles north of Corsicana, were grinding away steadily. The formation was picked up about 100 feet higher than in some wells drilled to the east of the present location.

The Wilson test is expected to go to 4,000 feet or deeper, with a possibility of tests being made of the Trinity and Pennsylvania sands if the Woodbine fails to produce. A shallow producing sand found north of Corsicana at about 800 feet was not found in the Killiam test.

After running a Halliburton tester Thursday night, preparations were being made to abandon the J. L. Collins & Company G. C. Kent No. 1 near Eureka at a total depth of 3235 feet. No indications of production were found.

No efforts have been made this week to cut off the water in the Bateman Oil Corporation's No. 1 McCowan at Bazette, although a good showing of gas was found before operations were suspended.

Aged Colmesneil Woman Passes Away

TEAGUE, July 17.—(Spl.)—Mrs. Margaret Bendy, 80, mother of H. W. Bendy, died at Colmesneil Monday, and interment was made Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Bendy and her husband were the first residents of Colmesneil and she lived there 48 years. She was a subscriber to both the Dallas News and the Houston Post for nearly fifty years.

The deceased is survived by one son, N. W. Bendy of Teague, and two daughters, Mrs. C. B. Hays, Houston, and Mrs. R. C. Fain, Waco, and five grandchildren.

GROOM FACES SHORTAGE.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 17.—(AP)—Norman E. Bernhardt, 24, a former clerk in the bond department of the Marine Trust Company here, was married Saturday and went on a secret honeymoon. Today he was being sought by detectives to explain a $60,000 shortage in his accounts.

CANDIDATES TWO COUNTIES ATTEND STREETMAN PICNIC

NAVARRO COUNTY CANDIDATES HAVE TWO ENGAGEMENTS ON THURSDAY

Navarro and Freestone county candidates attended a picnic and baseball game at Streetman Wednesday and Wednesday night and spoke and campaigned for their respective candidacies. Local candidates reported that there were more voters present from Freestone county than from Navarro county.

Local candidates attended a picnic at Oak Grove Thursday and will speak at New Raleigh school house Thursday night instead of at Dresden as has been announced for several days, according to information received here Thursday. The date was originally scheduled for New Raleigh, but was changed to Dresden several days ago. The date now goes back to the original schedule.

It was stated Thursday that the previously reported speaking date for Friday night at Cryer Creek had been changed to Purdon, and the week will be ended at Drane Saturday night.

Earle B. Mayfield, candidate for the governor's nomination, speaks at the county courthouse here Friday night.

The final week of the campaign before the primary, July 26, will open Monday night at Zion's Rest. A date will be arranged for Frost sometime next week, it is expected and it may be Tuesday.

Ferguson Here Tuesday

James E. Ferguson, former governor of Texas, will speak on the courthouse lawn Tuesday evening in the interest of the candidacy of Mrs. M. A. (Ma) Ferguson, formerly governor, who is seeking the democratic nomination in the approaching primary. A huge crowd is anticipated for this occasion.

The orginally scheduled speaking date for the county and precinct candidates in Corsicana for July 25, Friday, has been changed to July 23, Wednesday, it was stated Thursday. This speaking date will be held at the courthouse lawn. Prairie Point will be visited Thursday, July 24, and Blooming Grove voters will be addressed Thursday night, July 24, at 8 o'clock, according to the present plans.

No date has been arranged for Friday night, the day before the primary election, but is is likely that rallies, etc., will be arranged for during the next few days.

TEXAS WILL GAIN AT LEAST TWO NEW MEMBERS CONGRESS

large increase in population might entitle her to nine new members, making her delegation in congress 40 instead of 11 as at present.

Missouri Would Lose

Missouri, it was figured would be the heaviest loser, her delegation being curtailed by three members. Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky and Mississippi, were calculated to list two each and Alabama, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont and Virginia were estimated to lose one each.

New York has had a gain which brought her total population almost a million higher than the estimate of January 1 on which it was calculated that state would lose one member of congerss. Instead of a loss of one it now seems probable New York will gain an additional member bringing her delegation to 44.

Michigan was set down for four additional members, but her preliminary population are some 64,000 more than the estimate on which this gain was figured and it seems the apportionment of four additional members, making her delegation total 17, probably will go through.

Ohio, it was estimated, would gain three new members but the preliminary census returns show its population to be 384,000 less than the estimate. As a result Ohio may gain only one new member.

Texas To Gain

Texas and New Jersey were put down for two new members. Texas in her preliminary population has exceeded the January estimate by about 177,000 and therefore seems sure for two new members. New Jersey has not concluded her enumeration.

Other states which would gain one new member, according to the January estimates, were Arizona, Connecticut, Florida, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Washington. Of these states, only Arizona, and Oklahoma have not reported their population. Connecticut, Florida, and North Carolina seem assured by their new populations of securing an additional member of congress, but Washington was 71,000 under her estimated population and may not have come within the required number for a new congressman.

The preliminary census statistics bear out predictions of losses in Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Tennessee and Vermont. Population figures have not been announced for Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, Pennsylvania or Virginia, which states were figured for losses.

VIRTUAL DICTATORSHIP IS BRANDISHED OVER GERMANY BY CHANCELLOR BRUENING

BERLIN, July 17.—(AP)—The club of virtual dictatorship, government by decree, was brandished over Germany today by the chancellor, Dr. Heinrich Bruening.

Indications were that the reichstag would be dissolved if it questioned the chancellor's plan to enact the government's financial program in this wise.

In such an eventuality President Paul Von Hindenburg, the chancellor, and the finance minister, Dr. Hermann Dietrich, would exercise, under Article 48 of the constitution an almost limitless authority, not responsible to a legislative body.

The situation came to a head yesterday in discussion of article two of the finance minister's program, involving new forms of taxation.

In a division upon this article the government's majority, never stable, fell down. The article was rejected, 256 to 204.

The chancellor, amid howls of "Resign! Resign!" from the Communists, said:

"In the name of the government I must now declare that it no longer places any value on continuation of debate."

Shortly afterward the cabinet met and decided to enact the finance measure by decree, an action authorized by the president, who also gave the chancellor authority to dissolve parliament.

Article 48 says: "If the public safety and order in the German reich are disturbed or endangered, the federal president may take measures necessary for restoration of the public safety and order."

The article also states that measures decreed by the German president "are to be revoked upon demand of the reichstag."

The Socialist party, carrying out its intention today of introducing a resolution demanding revocation of the enactment by decree, would precipitate the dissolution of the reichstag. New elections at this time would promise only gains for the extremeists, and would hardly clarify the situation.

Dallas, Senator Love was taking a night off, after speaking before the Texas Angora Goat Raisers' convention at Rock Springs Wednesday morning. He planned to speak tonight in Waco at the court house at 8 p. m. and over Radio Station WACO at 8:30 p. m.

Barry Miller at Galveston, said "You South Texans have all heard that there is oil under one of the prison farms and that private interests are trying to get hold of it. Why on earth the taxpayers shouldn't get the benefit of this oil is more than I can see. If elected governor, I'll drill for oil on that prison farm and if oil is found, the prison problem will be settled for all time to come, without any further burden on the taxpayers."

Miller's itinerary called for a speech today at Bryan at 2:30 p. m.

Earle B. Mayfield, speaking yesterday at Atlanta and Jefferson, continued to hammer against the proposed highway bond issue and rapped newspaper editors who had announced favoring the candidacy of Ross Sterling. Mayfield expected to speak at Kerens Friday afternoon and at Corsicana Friday night.

Mayfield was booked to speak at Tyler at 2:30 p. m. and at Athens at 8 p. m.

Small Makes Charges.

Clint Small, speaking at Floresville, charged that "the big club of the highway department is being wielded for the political advantage of Ross Sterling." In the afternoon, speaking at Victoria, he accused the highway commission of "swapping roads for votes." His schedule included speeches today at Cuero, Floresville and San Antonio.

Statements assertedly contained in newspaper advertisements for Ross Sterling in weekly newspapers were assailed by Jim Young of Kaufman in his address last night at Corpus Christi. Of the two statements which he charged were "misrepresentations," the first he said was that all county road bonds would be refunded. Young declared that the state would refund such bonds only on the basis of the present value of the roads and that Sterling refused to discuss this matter before the people. He said he had challenged Sterling to do so.

The second statement, he said, asserted that no ad valorem tax could be levied to care for the bonds. On the contrary, Young contended, the bonds could not be sold except on the credit of the state.

Moody Swipes at Ferguson.

Taking another shot at Jim Ferguson, Gov. Dan Moody last night declared at Austin that 'if Ferguson is not supporting Cecil Storey for attorney general he is not treating Storey right, because Storey stuck with Ferguson in the legislature. He was with Ferguson in the 39th legislature and helped sponsor Ferguson's amnesty bill. Ferguson at least ought to return the compliment Storey paid him in 1926 when Storey supported Mrs. Ferguson in her candidacy for reelection."

Storey, speaking at Pampa, demanded last night that Gov. Moody apologize or offer proof of his asserted remark that Storey was "a candidate of Jim Ferguson's."

After a speech at Childress this afternoon and another at Wichita Falls tonight, Storey expected to shift his campaign to Central Texas, speaking tomorrow night at Taylor, Saturday afternoon at Belton and at night at Temple.

Debate at Llano.

Verbal charges and countercharges flew last night in the debate at Llano between Representative Bob Long of Wichita Falls partisan of James V. Allred, candidate for attorney general, and Representative Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg, supporter of Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt.

Long declared he was not there to speak only for Allred, but to tell of the investigation of University land leases by the house committee of which he and Petsch were members.

He declared he wanted Allred elected attorney general "because he is clean and honest." Long charged that two University regents represented oil companies, yet were handling oil leases of University land in West Texas.

Petsch retorted that he believed Bobbitt had earned the approval "of all honest citizens" and said that although in his challenge he had asked Long to bring the records to prove his accusations against Bobbitt, made at Llano in a speech July 4, Long instead had merely made new accusations. Petsch had said in his challenge that he would resign as a member of the legislature if Long proved his charges.

BARRON ENDORSES DAVIS.

BRYAN, July 17.—(AP)—W. S. Barron, speaker of the Texas house of representatives today endorsed Representative John E. Davis of Mesquite, Dallas county, for state treasurer. He said as a long-time chairman of the house contingent expense committee, Davis had earned the appellation "Watch dog of the contingent expense fund."

GRAVE CHARGES ARE FILED AGAINST SHIP MASTER AFTER WRECK

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(AP)—Charges of reckless navigation, negligence and navigating at excessive speed in fog have been filed by federal steamboat inspectors at Boston against Captain Archie H. Brooks, master of the steamer, Fairfax, which collided with the tanker Pinthis off the Massachusetts coast June 10 with the loss of 49 lives.

D. N. Hoover, who heads the steamboat inspection service, announced the proceedings today.

He recommended that Secretary Lamont call a conference of ship owners for establishingg ship lanes in coastwise waters and that tank ship operators be requested to work out a plan for anchoring such vessels during fogs where there is chance of collision with passenger carriers

The Fairfax, a Merchants and Miners' liner operating coastwise, was held to have collided with the Pinthis about tix miles off Scituate. The Pinthis was a tank carrier owned by the Lake Tankers Corporation, of Wilmington.

Gasoline from the tanker's cargo caught fire immediately and the blazing oil on the water contributed largely to the loss of life. Of the 49 dead, 16 were passengers on the Fairfax and the balance were members of the crews of the vessels.

Being unskilled was another charge made against Captain Brooks. If he is found guilty at the trial, his license as master is subject to revocation.

STATE ATTORNEY WILL TAKE PART IN FEDERAL CASE

WADE TO ARGUE FOR STATE IN DEMAND OF NEGROES TAKE PART IN PRIMARY

AUSTIN, July 17.—(AP)—Planning to argue that Texas political parties have as much right to prescribe the qualifications of their members as have churches, W. A. Wade, assistant attorney general, left today for El Paso to represent the state in the hearing in federal court there involving the right of negroes to vote in the state democratic primary.

The suit was brought by Luther H. Wiley of San Antonio who complained that he qualified as a voter in the democratic primary, as set forth in a resolution adopted by the state democratic executive committee, in all particulars except that he was not white. The hearing Saturday will be on a temporary order restraining John K. Weber, chairman of the democratic committee at San Antonio, from barring Wiley as a voter.

The case will be the second testing authority of the state to exclude negroes from primary elections. In a previous test case, the supreme court held unconstitutional a Texas statute saying that negroes could not vote in primaries. Subsequently another law was enacted giving to political parties the right to prescribe the qualifications of its members, and under this law the democratic committee this year resolved that one of the qualifications would be that the prospective voter was white.

In a similar case in Virginia, federal court held that the state law was in violation of the 15th amendment. In that state, however, expenses of primaries were paid by the state, while in Texas each party must pay its own expenses in the primaries. This will be argued as a vital difference, as giving to parties as much authority over its membership as a lodge or church.

Weber will assist Wade in defending action of the state committee.

BRITISH LABOR GOVERNMENT VICTORIOUS AGAIN IN VOTE OF CENSURE; OUTLOOK GOOD

LONDON, July 17.—(AP)—The British labor government today could see the sun shine through the parliamentary clouds which have threatened it for weeks.

Last night a long propected vote of censure on the ministry's protectionist policy was sprung unexpectedly by the conservative leader, Stanley Baldwin, in the midst of an official statement on the Egyptian situation. The government beat back the attack with one of its largest recent majorities, 71, the vote being 312 to 241.

Another menace, arising from doubts of the opposition as to their securing representation on the British delegation to the forthcoming London round table conference on Indian affairs, seemed likely today to be dissipated by government compliance with demands for all-party representation.

The ministry's conflict with the house of lords over the coal miners bill seemed to be resolving itself also, with approval by the miners' federation executive of the lords' demand for inclusion of a "spreadover" fortnight of 90 working hours in replacement of the ministrys 'own 7 1-2 hour working day.

Under the government's plan, which probably will enable passage of the long mooted coal mines bill, the spreadover could be applied only by joint agreement of the mine owners and miners' associations. The bill, when it appears before the commons next week, probably will be amended in this manner and returned to the lords for final action.

House In Turmoil

LONDON, July 17.—(AP)—The house of commons was thrown into excitement this afternoon when Fenner Brockway, labor member, in the middle of the question period, insisted upon delivering a speech on India and Prime Minister MacDonald moved his suspension for disobeying the chair.

After a division, when the tellers were lined up at the table to give the result, one of the tellers, the laborite, John Beckett, scandalized the chamber by seizing the mace, the house's emblem of authority, and running down the floor with it.

A messenger caught him at the bar of the house and the sergeant at arms recovered his mace amid scenes of great excitement.

The members, steeped in traditions of the sacredness of the commons' prestige and dignity, were horrified at the incident and loud protests came from both sides of the chamber.

Beckett's suspension also was moved by MacDonald and carried 324 to 4. As Fenner Brockway's suspension previously had been declared carried he and Beckett left the house together.

Members who sat near Beckett as he snatched the mace reported him to the chair as shouting: "Mr. Speaker, it's a damned disgrace," referring apparently to his labor colleague's suspension.

BODY MISSING AIR MAIL PILOT FOUND WEDNESDAY BY WAR FLYING PARTNER

mountains early in the morning of January 11.

Was Texas Trained

Immediately a search was started by air and land over most of Western Utah and Eastern Nevada. No trace, however, was found of the flier until his plane was found by two sheep herders 22 miles southeast of here last month.

Graham had spent more than 6,000 hours in the air. He received his training at San Diego, Cal., Fort Sill, Okla., Fort Worth, Texas, and overseas. He joined the army June 28, 1917, and served at the front with the fifteenth aero squadron and also with the American army of occupation after the armistice.

During the war Graham's observer was shot while his plane was flying 50 feet above the battle lines in the Argonne Forest and dropping carrier pigeons and supplies to the famous "Lost" battalion. He was officially credited with the bringing down of one enemy balloon and had two citations.

He was born in Indianapolis 32 years ago and was married. Mrs. Graham and two children, twins 8 years old, lived in Hollywood, Cal.

Million Pound Haul Fish Lowers Prices

BOSTON, July 17.—(AP)—The largest single day's catch of mackerel in six years arrived at the fish pier today. A fleet of 22 seiners brought in 1,050,000 pounds of the fish, caught yesterday, causing a two cent drop in price. Wholesalers were asking 4 to 5 cents a pound.

Pocketbooks Too Small; Save Men More Than $5,000

CHICAGO, July 17.—(AP)—Three men went to the races yesterday and won so much money they couldn't get it all in their pocketbooks, and that was a good break for them.

The three, J. C. Wilkinson, E. W. Altman and Adolph Bernbach, wagered wisely on long shots. When they boarded the train returning to Chicago they tried to put their winnings in their pocketbooks, but they had too much, so they had to put it in their pockets loose.

Reaching Chicago, the three entered an automobile to drive home. Another car, carrying three robbers forced them to halt.

One of the robbers, waving a gun, said: "Give us your money."

Just then another machine was heard approaching so the robber shouted "quick, your pocketbooks."

The victims gladly handed over their wallets, containing altogether $340. In their pockets, safe, was something more than $5000.

CLOTURE RULE IS SOUGHT IN DEBATE ON NAVAL TREATY

the cloture petition. Senator Reed urged him to offer at once. This would limit debate after 1 o'clock Saturday, if adopted.

Watson estimated there were more than 30 signers to the Cloture petition after it had been in circulation an hour.

Meanwhile, the opponents were offering their reservations. Senator Hale, chairman of the naval committee, gave notice he would introduce a reservation to stipulate that the American navy did not abandon its policy of a right to build whatever class of ships desired within the tonnage limitations.

A fifth reservation to the treaty was offered by Senator Johnson to amend article 18 to permit the United States to build at any time during the life of the past the last three of the 18 eight-inch gun cruisers. Under the treaty the United States would build only 15 of the cruisers before 1936 when the treaty expires.

In the first speech of the day, Hale said defeat of the treaty would be followed by another conference next year, as provided in the Washington agreement.

Meanwhile, he said, France and Italy could "find time to adjust their differences and a treaty providing for real limitation of armaments, with the interests of the United States truly safeguarded, can and will be negotiated if such a conference is held."

The naval chairman said the United States should wait until France and Italy had worked out an agreement before approving the pact.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(AP)—Senate advocates of the London naval treaty today were demanding an early vote upon the pact and were ready to try force if peaceful persuasion fails to end debate.

A petition seeking adoption of the cloture rule was ready for circulation, as the pro-treaty forces had little hope of obtaining an unanimous agrement setting a time for the final roll call.

Senator Johnson, republican, California, leader of the opposition, insisted no agreement be sought until Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, his aly, returns to the city tonight or tomorrow. He was called away by death in the family.

Senator Watson of Indiana, republican leader, is confident of enough votes to make the cloture rule effective. A two-thirds majority is necessary. Many of the treaty advocates are confirmed opponents of the cloture, however, and it will not get the full strength of the dominant treaty forces.

The agreement being sought is for a limitation of debate next week and a final vote on the treaty by Tuesday night or Wednesday.

This failing, some treaty proponents want to rush the debate to a conclusion by the end of this week. If the cloture is submitted any time today it will automatically be voted upon Friday.

If adopted, the cloture goes into effect immediately and restricts each senator to one hour of talk thereafter until a vote is taken on the treaty.

Bank Bandits In Minnesota Get Large Sum

WILLMAR, Minn., July 16.—(AP)—Loot amounting to at least $142,000 was obtained by five machine gun bandits who held up the Bank of Willmar yesterday and escaped after shooting down two women.

Edwin Selvig, vice president of the bank, today said the bandits obtained "about $100,000 in stocks and bonds" in addition to $42,000 in cash. He estimated that about $25,000 of the paper was negotiable.

Meanwhile authorities of Minnesota, South Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin patrolled highways in a search for the gunmen whose robbery was the most sensational since the days of the James gang raid on Northfield, Minn., in 1876. That raid resulted in the death of two outlaws, the capture of the three Younger brothers and the breakup of the James gang.

While the search continued for the bandits, Mrs. Emil Johnson, oen of the women wounded, remained in a critical condition from a bullet wound in the chest, although physicians said she was "slightly improved."

Constipation Troubles

"I HAVE used Black-Draught as a family medicine for a good many years," says Mrs. Sallie Laughrun, of Huntdale, N. C. "I have found it an excellent remedy for constipation and the troubles that follow it. I have suffered frequently from gas pains, and when I am bothered that way I begin at once to take Black-Draught. Relief follows quickly.

"I give Black-Draught to the children when they are constipated, and it is not long until they are running around again."

Thousands of others have reported good results from the use of this purely vegetable medicine. Insist on the genuine Thedford's give him quite a lot of encouragement," said Janie, and blushed.

From Fort Worth it was learned that at 10:30 p. m. last night Leonard Smith, 13, and Oscar Fox, 13, had been sitting for fifty hours in adjoining trees in the yard of the former's home. Another Fort Worthian, Homer Wyatt, 15, started an assault on the tree-sitting record at 9:30 a. m.

The lengthening list included Buck Sawyer at Plainview, who planned to stap up in a mesquite tree until Christmas; Ray Saunders, 13, at Brownwood; and Junior Buzzard at Amarillo.

Sawyer had been up 48 hours at 8 a. m., today.

Bob Roy, Buck's manager, cut down on the sitter's food and drinks.

"We got to be careful," he warned Buck, "because if you get sick "What? Me come down."

"What? We get sick? Well, listen, I aint coming down; if I get sick the doctor is going to have to come up here. I ain't coming down."

See-Saw Endurance

CHICAGO, July 17.—(AP)—The endurance racket today had eached the teeter-totter stage, sometimes spoken of as "see-saw."

Two young Evanston misses—Mildred Borrey, 12, and Ruth Emerson, 14, teeter-tottered to a world's teeter-totter record yesterday but finally were forced to land by unimaginative policemen. The little ladies had been see-sawing for some seven odd hours, being refueled with fruit, cakes and sandwiches by admiring future citizens.

Out on Artesian avenue three boys were enduring on a bicycle, having done 325 miles last night and still going. They started Monday. A refueling crew has been established in a tent, in case the bicycle develops tire trouble.

That grand stunt of tree-sitting, conceived by brilliant adolescents as the enduring test of the endurance trails, has become epidemic. In almost every part of town some daring youth may be found perched in a tree top, being refueled by a proud and admiring ground crew.

Some mothers have put a stop to "this foolishness," as one or two were unkind enough to describe it, but others are giving victual support to the contestants. These latter mothers, in some instances, have expressed genuine sympathy with their children's announced determination to remain aloft until the September school bells ring out. They reason that if their boys are sitting in a tree they won't be tracking much across the kitchen linoleum.

Stayed Up 156 Hours

KANSAS CITY, July 17.—(AP)—Jack Richards, 14-year-old endurance tree sitter, was off his perch today after 156 hours aloft in the waving branches. The end of his long sit was for the sake of mother's, whose endurance was not quite up to Jack's.

His example had sent more than a score of other youngsters in quest of tree sitting honors to their parent's dismay.

In a broadcast ceremony his ground crew of neighborhood children, which once struck because their pictures were not taken with him, crowned Jack "World champion tree sitter."

On Pole 48 Days

BALTIMORE, July 17.—(AP)—"Oh yeah, and a couple of pooh poohs" is the contemptuous observation of Wee Willie Wentworth, 9, pole sitter de luxe, when he reads of the effeminate art of "tree sitting" in the West.

Willie, be it known, is champion of champions in the art of sitting, having received the crown of king over a score or more pole sitters last summer in Baltimore when he came down from his perch atop a pole in the Wentworth back yard after 48 days "up."

Willie was crowned at a party by no less than Mayor William F. Broening, and he declared that tree sitting, where there are nice leaves to protect one from the sun and rain is nothing short of a girlish pastime.

And even Willie's 13 lear old queen, Dorothy Staylor, who came down from her pole perch two days ahead of her royal consort, says those of the West who aspire to the crown must be sort of "sissy" in their protected tree perches.

Corpus Christi Enters

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 17.—(AP)—Jack Hunt and Raymond Parker, each 13, went after the tree-sitting record today, climbing aloft at 11:40 a. m.

CAMP MITCHELL, Cal., July 17.—(AP)—As a forerunner to the tragedy which cost twelve lives in a tunnel on the Hetch Hetchy project here today, George C. Nolan, 46, topman, plunged 800 feet to his death when a skip cable parted in a shaft while he was being lowered with four cases of dynamite.

The dynamite did not explode. Before the skip left surface Nolan made an unsuccessful attempt to reach a box of caps. Engineers sail the whole camp would have been wrecked had the caps been loaded on the skip.

Governor Long Announces For U. S. Senate

NEW ORLEANS, July 16.—(AP)—The Louisiana Progress, weekly newspaper supporting the state administration, today anounced that Governor Huey P. Long would run for the United States senate against Senator Joseph E. Ransdell.

In a copyrighted articles in his newspaper, ending in a signed statement from him, Governor Long said he would make the fight on the issues of his highway proposal and opposition to the "old New Orleans ring."

COUNTY-WIDE RALLY OF DEMONSTRATION CLUBS HERE FRIDAY

EVENT WILL TAKE PLACE AT CITY PARK WITH SPEAKERS AND CONTESTS

Everything was in readiness Thursday for the annual Navarro county home demonstration clubs rally at the city park in Corsicana Friday and indications pointed to a large attendance from the various clubs of the county. The rally is being sponsored by the Navarro county home demonstration council which is providing a number of the prizes for the winners in the various contests that have been held in the clubs. The Corsicana Chamber of Commerce is also providing several of the prizes.

A basket picnic lunch will be spread at the noon hour.

Miss Jennie Camp, district home demonstration agent, extension department, Texas A. and M. College, will be on hand and will make two addresses during the day. F. N. Drane of Corsicana will also appear on the program. Miss Camp will set up a model 4-H pantry at the rally, with the shelves, etc. being and Company.

Mrs .Murphy Williams as chairman of a committee and with representatives from Dyer's, Marks, and Miss Fannie Greenlee's companies, will judge the clothing contests engaged in by the women and girl's organizations. A large number of the dresses, etc. entered were on display at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters Thursday afternoon, with other entries expected Friday morning.

Team demonstrations will also be held.

IN MEMORY

Again the death angel has visited in the Silver City community and this time claimed as its own Mrs. Ama Currington.

The death angel hovered over the home only a short while until the final summons came on Tuesday evening, July 1, 1930, at 8:30 o'clock, when God said come home.

To the heart-roken husband and to the other grieving loved ones we would say, "weep not as those who have no hope."

"Only look to that bright home above where she is standing at the gate." She is watching and waiting there for you to come. Can't you see her beckon and smile as she says, "Don't weep for me for I am happy with the Saviour in the house not made with hands."

To her husband, Mrs. Ama was ever faithful and true, serving him and caring for his needs always. And to her friends, her door was always open wide. Her bright smile ready to greet them.

She numbered her friends by her acquaintances for to know her was to love her.

It is hard to give her up. The home will be dark and lonely, but if we look with eyes that see beyond the shadows we will see her angel spirit hovering near to comfort and console our broken, wounded hearts. Let us permit "the light never was on land or sea" to come into our lives and guide us as she did during her stay on earth. And when we are called as she was, we shall be able to answer, 'ready."

—One who loved her.

reformatory at Granite since his arrest by Sheriff McKinney at the scene of the slaying near Shamrock last Friday. Mrs. Vaughan was clubbed over the head with an iron pipe at her farm home and was found dying. Officers said the negro accused had the reputation of being feeble-minded.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 17.—(AP)—Roy St. Lewis, United Sattes district attorney here, said today that feleral charges of conspiracy will be filed against leaders of the mob at Erick, Beckham county, who Saturday night drove approximately 200 negroes from their homes.

A committee of merchants and business men, claiming laxity on the part of county officers, came here today to ask the aid of the federal government, Lewis said. He indicated the charges would allege conspiracy to injure and onpress citizens in the exercise and enjoyment of rights guaranteed under the federal constitution.

Names of those against whom charges are to be drawn had not been submitted to Lewis at noon today. When the names are received the charges will be filed with the United States commissioner at Guthrie, Lewis said.

Lewis alleged he had information that county officers were involved with the groups that served warnings on the negroes.

Sheriff M. L. Inman said men from his office accompanied the warning groups to see that negroes were not harmed.

The charges to be filed against the leaders, Lewis said carries a penalty of 10 years in the penitentiary or a fine of $5,000.

NATIONALLY KNOWN TEXAS PHYSICIAN IS BURIED THURSDAY

Dr. Robert Ernest House, aged 55 years, Ferris, nationally known for his discovery of "truth serum", and origination of the Florence-Rosser method of obstetrics, who died at his home in Ferris at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, was buried at Ferris Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Dr. House was stricken with paralysis about one year ago.

He was a native of Farmer's Branch, and completed his premedical education at the University of Texas in 1898 and graduated from Tulane in 1899.

While conducting research work in obstetrical and mental cases, Dr. House discovered the powers of scopolamine hydrobromide in preventing persons from telling falsehoods, and this drug became known all over the United States as "truth serum." Extensive usage was made of it for a time by officers as tests to determine whether persons charged with crime were innocent or guilty.

Dr. House was a fellow of the American Medical association, a member of the Texas State Medical association, the Ellis county Medical association; and the Medical association of the Southwest. He was an honorary member of the national police commission, international bureau of identification, the Texas Sheriffs' assocation, medical director for the Texas State Civic association and member of the International Academy of Historical Sciences.

Surviving are his wife, formerly Miss Alma Orr, and two sons, Dr. David House, Ferris; and Dr. Ford House, Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Orr and James McCammon attended the services.

Zane Grey Picture Coming to Palace Theatre Tomorrow

Zane Grey has come into his own. This famous American novelist, whose exciting stories of frontier days are read by millions, again comes into screen prominence through the medium of talking pictures. For the Zane Grey story, so popular with audiences in days of silent pictures, proves even more thrilling than ever enhanced by the addition of vigorous dialogue and realistic sound effects.

Recently Paramount produced "The Light of the Western Stars," one of the lighter Zane Grey novels, with Richard Arleen in the featured role. This picture was so well received that Paramount immediately put a number of Grey's stories into production, the first of which, "The Border Legion," which will be at the Palace Friday and Saturday, is perhaps the best known of all Grey's work. The cast of "The Border Legion" is headed by Richard Arlen, who will devote most of his time in the near future to pictures of this popular appeal; Jack Holt in a great dramatic role; Fay Wray, who recently scored the outstanding success of her career in "The Texan;" and Eugene Pallette and Stanley Fields.

Plagarism Suit For Half Million Against Zane Grey

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—(AP)—A $500,000 plagarism suit against Zane Grey, author, was being heard in federal court here today. The suit was brought by Charles A. Maddux, who charges Grey's novel "The Thundering Herd" was based on a story written in 1907 by the late John H. Cook, Buffalo hunter. Maddux sued under an assignment from Cook's widow by which he obtained the rights to the pioneer's book.

ITALIAN INJURED IN MINE IS GOING BACK HOME TO DIE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 17.—(AP)—Giuseppe Del Col heard some hand organ music in front of the hospital the other day, and so he has gone home to die.

A stone in a Harlan, Ky., coal mine fell upon Giuseppe, as he worked in the shaft almost nine months ago. For those nine months, Giuseppe has lain on a hospital cot, partially paralyzed but uncomplaining.

Then he heard the hand organ. It reminded him of his Italy, and with it came the desire to see Gianni, his wife, and Napoli, his home. The Italians consul was appealed to. Passage was arranged.

Yesterday Giuseppe was attired in a new, white hospital robe. On a stretcher he was taken to the train, where he was lifted through a window into a private drawing room, Saturday a ship will leave New York with Guiseppe Del Col aboard.

Doctors say he may if he survives 12 days on the ship, maybe if he hears Italian voices again and receives the tender care of his wife, mother and children—that Guiseppe Del Col's "too much seek" back will be well again.

WEALTHY ST. LOUIS GROCER AND ALLEGED BOOTLEGGER ESCAPES

ST. LOUIS, July 17.—(AP)—Sam Scorfina, 43, reputed wealthy St. Louis grocer and alleged bootlegger who disappeared Saturday and was believed kidnapped and possibly slain, escaped from his captors early today near St. Genevieve, Mr., St. Louis police were advised.

Chief of Police John Herter of St. Genevieve said Scorfina, badly beaten, appeared there about 2 a. m. and asked for protection. The grocer said he escaped from his captors at midnight when one of the guards fell asleep, ran to a farm house, appealed for aid and was taken to St. Genevieve by two farm boys.

Scorfina told Herter he was abducted Saturday night by four or five men in a car at the east approach to Eads bridge over the Mississippi river. He was held for ransom. He could not tell where he had been taken.

Saunders Plans New Chain Store System

MEMPHIS, July 17.—(AP)—Two days after one of his grocery chains went into bankruptcy, Clarence Saunders announced today he plans to inaugurate a new system, based on "new ideas" which he would not divulge in detail.

Saunders originated the self-service grocery store with the Piggly Wiggly chain, carried it on in the Saunders stores after he lost the former in 1923 and said today his new stores will be the culmination of the ideas used in his earlier projects.

The Clarence Saunders, Inc., operating 153 of his groceries, went into bankruptcy Tuesday. He said 827 others licensed to other companies are not involved.

MONTGOMERY WARD OFFICIAL VISITED STORES IN TEXAS

W. L. STENSGAARD

Arriving in the Texas area by fast plane, W. L. Stensgaard, general sales manager of Montgomery Ward & Company retail stores, placed his foot upon Texas soil and expressed satisfaction by stating that the skies looked bluer, and the sun shone brighter down in Texas. In fact, he seemed very enthusiastic and happy when interviewed, stating that the 1930 sales increase of the retail stores was very satisfactory. Mr. Stensgaard stated that the company has real confidence in the ability of good newspaper advertising which he finds reaches over seven million people practically every day in all 550 communities throughout the nation where Ward stores are located.

MAN BLAMED FOR LOSS OF JOB LOST EAR LAST NIGHT

BEAUMONT, July 17.—(AP)—Because he said a complaint to his employer had caused him to lose his job at a filling station, E. J. Inman, former filling station employee, yesterday jumped on the running board of an automobile occupied by C. W. Bingham, president of South Park College, here, and bit off the college president's right ear. Inman pleaded guilty before Justice R. A. McReynolds to charges of simple assault and paid a $19.25 fine.

HOLDER OF JUNIOR TRANSCONTINENTAL AIR RECORD DIES

FRANK GOLDSBOROUGH SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES RECEIVED IN RECENT CRASH

BENNINGTON, Vt., July 17.—(AP)—On his 20th birthday Frank Goldsborough, whose father, Erlee Goldsmith, was lost on an attempted trans-Atlantic flight, died a victim of a crashing plane in a fog-filled mountain forest.

The youthful aviator, who held junior trans-continental flight records, passed away late yesterday at the Putnam Memorial hospital. He failed to regain consciousness during the two days since the crash last Monday on Woodford mountain.

The body was taken to New York City for the funeral.

Goldsborough's plane hit trees on the mountain and he was buried in wreckage. A companion, Doland Mockler, was thrown clear and found his way here to lead searching parties. Goldsborough lay unconscious, pinned down, for 18 hours before being found.

His stepmother, Mrs. Gertrude Goldsborough, came here on receiving word of the crash.

Brice Goldsborough was lost in the Dawn, Mrs. Frances Grayson's plane in December, 1927.

RAILROADS FILE BRIEFS PROPOSED TEXAS EXTENSIONS

NUMBER OF LINES WOULD BUILD BETWEEN BEAUMONT-PORT ARTHUR

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—(AP)—Briefs were filed this week with the interstate commerce commission in behalf of all the railroads contesting over proposals to construct new lines between Beaumont and Port Arthur.

The Missouri Pacific and Santa Fe interests which organized the Sabine Basin railway to take over the Eastern Texas Electric line argued the extension would serve the public and provide better rail service for that territory. Municipal and trade interests intervened, supporting the application of the Sabine.

In opposition, the Kansas City Southern argued the Sabine organization would result in unnecessary duplication of rail facilities into Port Arthur and that the Kansas Cty Southern would be seriously damaged thereby.

The Waco, Beaumont, Trinity and Sabine which the commission had granted a permit to build through the same territory, opposed the Sabine Basin organization on the ground this would make the earlier project worthless.

Final arguments will be made to the commission and a decision announced later in the contest.

Man Wanted Houston Arrested in Mobile

MOBILE, Ala., July 17.—(AP)—Robert J. Hixon, 43, arrested here for Houston, Texas, authorities for desertion of his wife and child agreed to return to Texas today without requisition papers. Hixon, former member of the Houston police force, was arrested at the request of Sheriff T. A. Binford, of Harris county, Texas. He was found in company of a Houston divorcee, sitting in the latter's automobile. The woman was not held as Texas authorities had no charge against her. Nixon had been hunted in several states after leaving his wife and child in destitute circumstances, officers said.

OUTWITTING YOUR NERVES

by Josephine A. Jackson, M.D.

The New Psychology In Action

The Famous Writer and Authority on Nerves

LIBIDO, AND WHAT TO DO WITH IT.

Phillips Brooks said: "Do not pray for easy tasks; pray to be stronger men. Do you pray for tasks equal to your powers; pray for power equal to your tasks."

The libido (li-bee-do) is the vital energy inherent in the great fundamental instincts. It is a driving force which you feel as desire, impelling you to action. It goes out in three main streams. These three currents use up most of its energy in satisfying, first, your desire to stay alive; second, your desire to reproduce yourself in children; third, your desire to play up to society—for "No man liveth to himself."

Desire is an ever ceasing force. Like the forces of the Mississippi and the Colorado, it is altogether to the good when rightly directed. But there comes the rub! When any one of these streams of desire in an individual gets out of bounds, it makes a fierce cross-current in one or both of the other two. That is the time when you prove yourself to be your own worst enemy.

For example, if you are a deserter from the army, you have saved your life, but see what a pickle your ego; is in with your social desire! Of if your reproductive instinct current—sex for short—gets out of bounds early or late, it runs counter to both the other streams of your own desire, burdening you with wretched disease and making you an outcast from society.

One might think that the third stream—the herd or social instinct—would be harmless enough, no matter what force it gained. But a weakened moral fibre results when you give over your own individuality entirely, paying too much attention to what "Mrs. Grundy" will say. And "nerves" come when social requirements conflict with one or both of the more individualistic desires—ego and sex. So it is evident that you need to "watch your step" in all directions. However, it is well to remember that no temptation can overtake you but "such as is common to man." The majority of men can so direct their energy from a destructive channel into something good for themselves and for society. You can do the same thing. There really need be no conflict, such as makes "nerves," if you set about handling the matter intelligently.

In all these streams there are seasonal flood-tides. At such times the banks need to be strengthened. That is, extra precautions must be taken. At the same time free outlet must be guaranteed.

In little children the ego-current runs strong. At first they live only for themselves. Surely we want them to show abundant energy and forcefulness, for nothing is more hopeless than a too docile personality. But the child very soon finds that he cannot cry just when he feels like it, nor eat with his fingers, nor take for himself what belongs to others. Social restraint does not lessen his energy. It simply gives it direction..

The same principle will hold at each stage of life. The high tide of the reproductive libido swells with adolescence, and wanes only with the failing years. Each generation of adolescents seems to its elders to be undermining and tearing away all the social banks that would restrain its energy. The present generation is making great breaches in the walls of silence and enforced ignorance that the Victorian age built up to curb sex. Those walls of silence and ignorance or ecrumbling. Let them go. In every youth and maiden, Nature has laid deep and sure foundations of intiution and common sense. Upon these our youg people themselves will rear the necessary restraints, when they are given to see clearly and frankly the significance of the forces within them. Youth has no notion of playing false to itself, if it can only know "what it is all abount."

Libido, vital energy, life's forceful stream; may its energy never grow less, but may we have wisdom to give it right direction.

INCREASE OF OVER MILLION SHOWN IN STATE IN TEN YEARS

ALL PARTS STATE SHOW INCREASE; WEST TEXAS AND VALLEY GROW FAST

DALLAS, July 16.—(AP)—The 1930 population of Texas is 5,810,683, an increase in the last decade of 1,147,455, or 24.62 per cent, according to figures released by census supervisors of the various districts in the state and compiled by the Associated Press today. The 1920 population was 4,663,228.

All sections participated in the growth, but the greatest increases were recorded in the Panhandle, West Texas, the Rio Grande valley and a number of coastal areas. The growth in the Panhandle where oil fields and agricultural developments attracted many, was tremendous.

Petroleum developments in the western area apparently was the chief reason for its great growth as most counties in which fields were brought in during the decade more than doubled their 1920 census. Similar increases were noted in the Rio Grande valley, where fruit and vegetable growing made a big stride during the past ten years, and along the Gulf coast where many were attracted by increased shipping activities and other large propects.

Decreases were reported by 66 of the 254 counties in the state. None of the declines, however, was great excepting the case of Eastland county, in North Central Texas, where a population of 33,981 compared with 58,505 in 1920 was reported. Decreased oil activities were blamed largely for the dimunition of 24,524.

Northeast Texas Declines.

Northeast Texas, with 14 counties, registered the most declines. North Texas with 12 was second and North Central Texas with 10 was third. South Texas had five counties to report lesser population, Central Texas six, Southwest Texas three, South Central Texas, six, Northwest Texas one, East Central Texas two, Southeast Texas two.

Roberts county in reporting 17 persons less than in 1920 was the only county in the Panhandle area showing a decrease.

Thirty-five countives doubled or more than doubled their population. They were Carson, Gray, Hansford, Hutchinson, Moore, Potter, Ochiltree and Wheeler in the Panhandle; Andrews, Crane, Ector, Glasscock, Howard, Hudspeth, Loving, Pecos and Winkler in West Texas; Bailey and Palmer in the Great Palins; Cameron, Hidalgo and Jim Hogg in South Texas; Cochran and Gaines in Northwest Texas; Dawson, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn and Terry in the South Plains; Jim Wells in the coastal area; Neuces on the south Central Gulf coast; Reagan, San Patricio and Upton in Southwest Texas and Tom Green in Central West Texas.

Six Exceed 100,000.

Kenedy in South Texas, unorganized in 1920, had 701 inhabitants.

Six counties had populations in excess of 100,000, Jefferson being the only addition to this class in the last decade. In 1920 it had a population of 72,120 and the latest figures gave it 131,935.

Harris county, which boasts the largest Texas city, Houston, also had the greatest county population with 347,800 persons living within its boundaries. Dallas, with 326,029, was second, Bexar with 294,627, was third and Tarrant, with 197,492 was fourth.

Loving, although among the counties more than doubling their population, had the smallest number of persons within its confines, the enumerators recording only 195.

Texas nosed out California in the race for fifth place among states, according to unofficial figures. California's population was given as 5,624,282, or 186,401 under Texas. New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio will top Texas.

TAXATION STATE'S NATURAL RESOURCES URGED FOR SCHOOLS

AUSTIN, July 16.—(AP)—Taxation on the state's natural resources for the perfection and continued support of Texas' educational system was urged by Governor Dan Moody today in an address to members of the state board of education and president and administrators of state colleges.

The address was at a meeting called to discuss what steps could be taken toward coordinating the work of state colleges with the state board of education

The governor declared it was the duty of all school boards of regents or directors to state in their requests for funds, from where that money should come, and added that in his opinion men who are depleting the state of its natural riches should be called upon to support the schools.

In the present gubernatorial campaign he said, some candidates have said that if elected they would reduce the expenses of the state. This is a foolish notion, he declared, because state expenses are mounting and will continue to mount, so long as the state's population increases.

Much of the profits taken out of natural resources he declared, "goes to build brown stone mansions along Fifth avenue."

The governor also advocated a unified educational program in which the country would be responsible for all schools within the country, with the state aiding. While some of the larger cities have some of the finest schools in the country, just outside the city, in the same county with the fine school, may be found a one-room school with one teacher and students in seven grades, he said, declaring it should be the city's responsibility to improve these schools.

New Orleans Cotton Firmer.

NEW ORLEANS, July 17.—(AP)—The cotton market opened firmer. Liverpool cables were about as expected and first trades showed gains of three points.

New York opened much firmer than the market here and private wires from that point attributed the advance to an improvement in the demand for cotton goods at higher prices and good buying of spot cotton by the mills.

Prices were continued to advance after the start in sympathy with New York, October moved up to 12.95 and December to 13.15, or 15 to 16 points above yesterday's close.

At the end of the first hour the market was steady and near the highs.

Following the early bulge in prices due to reported improvement in cotton goods trade the market became very quiet, gradually easing off until December made a new low at 13.01, or 14 points under the earlier highs, but October failed to break through its earlier low.

The market felt lack of support and at mid-session October was trading at 12.88 and December at 13.01, or 7 to 10 points down from the early highs.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, July 17.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady unchanged to an advance of 13 points today on buying which was attributed to fairly steady Liverpool cables and reports of continued dry weather in central and western sections of the belt.

July sold up to 13.01 or 8 points net higher, while new crop positions showed net advances of about 14 to 17 points on the early demand, but some realizing was encountered around 12.94 for the new contract and prices later reacted several points. At the end of the first hour, the market was quiet with the more active crop months ruling about 2 to 7 points net higher.

The market was quiet in the morning when prices sagged several points under realizing accompanied by some scattered selling on a more favorable view of weather prospects. July was relatively weak under some further liquidation, dipping to 12.80 or 13 points net lower, while new crop positions lost most of their earlier advances. The new October declined to 12.70. Prices were within a point or two of the lowest at mid-day with the new crop positions ruling about 2 to 3 points net higher.

CAMERON LUMBER COMPANY TO HOLD FORMAL OPENING

Everything was in readiness late Thursday afternoon for the formal opening of the new quarters of the William Cameron company on East Third avenue which will be held Friday from 2:30 to 10 p. m.

The new office quarters comprise the finishing touch to the general overhauling and renovation of the lumber yards, and the shifting of the entrance to Third avenue.

All of the exterior of the new buildings are finished in stucco, with attractive trimmings and awnings.

The interior of the office buildings houses the general offices and also various departments which carry a full line of builders supplies, and provides ample display room for the many lines of builders supplies and built in features supplied by the company.

All types of Cameron "Ideal" built-in features are on display, ranging from telephone stands, and medicine closets to breakfast nooks, china cabinets, kitchen cabinets, kitchen combinations, mirrored doors, hardwood flooring and other home conveniences.

A complete line builders supplies, wall coverings, paints and hardware are carried by the firm, W. M. Speer, manager, said Thursday, and everything but the furniture could be obtained from the one place.

Several novelties are included in the wall-covering department, with varieties of the new English patterns, modernistic touches, silk and wool faced papers, on display.

John Carson was the general contractor for the improvements, and Wade Abernathy had the painting and decoration contract.

The people of Corsicana are cordially invited to attend the formal opening and see the latest designs of built-in furniture, and building supplies.

TURKISH AVIATOR, DOWNED BY KURDS, TERRIBLY TREATED

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 17.—(AP)—One Turkish aviator, brought down by invading Kurds on Mount Ararat, has suffered a terrible vengeance of the tribesmen for the depredations of all his brother airmen on their forces.

While other planes dropped bombs around them the Kurds snatched the airman from the plane they had shot down with machine guns and gouged out his eyes. Others tore the machine to shreds in a moment of frenzied hate.

Facing a heavy fire from the machine guns of the Kurds, believed to have been reinforced, the bombing planes flew to a height of 20,000 feet, higher than Mont Blanc, and swooped downward, dropping tons of bombs among the crevices used by the tribes as hideouts.

One band of Kurds yesterday attacked the town of Aralik. Meanwhile Turkish reinforcements advanced across a devastated area where marauders had destroyed 200 villages. The advance was slow as there were no railways or highways to hasten their journey.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, July 17.—(AP)—Influenced by renewal of dry weather complaints from Canada, wheat prices rallied today after a sag at the opening. Yesterday's late reports of moisture relief for drought sections of the spring wheat crop belt appeared to have been of less benefit than was at first assumed.

Starting unchanged to 7-8c off, wheat afterward rose all around to above yesterday's finish, but the gains failed to hold well. Corn, oats and provisions were firmer, with corn opening at 1-8c off to 3-4c up, and subsequently scoring a general advance.

Wheat closed unsettled 1-4 to 3-4c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to 5-8c down, oats 1-4c off to 1-8c up, and provisions varying from 42c decline to a 15c advance.

Fort Worth Grain.

FORT WORTH, July 17.—(AP)—Premiums for high protein wheat stumped badly on the Fort Worth cash grain market Thursday on the announcement that Mexico's needs were temporarily supplied. The trade in this high protein grain was irregular during the day and values were largely guess work with most bids showing little advance over the ordinary wheat. Good demand was reported for milling wheat on the basis of 92 1-2 to 96c for ordinary number 1 hard delivered Texas, common points while exporters were bidding 92 to 92 1-2c for ordinary wheat delivered Texas gulf ports.

Demand for sorghums was strong but offerings very light while corn, oats and barley were fairly easy to sell.

Estimated receipts: Wheat 174 cars; corn, 5; oats 3; barley 6; and sorghums 1.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

CORN—No. 2 mixed 96 1-2 to 97 1-2c; No. 2 white 1.04 to 1.04 1-2; No. 2 yellow 98 1-2 to 99c.

OATS—No. 2 red 43 to 44c.

BARLEY—No. 2 nominally 56 to 57c.

SORGHUMS—No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. nom.nally 1.70 to 1.80; No. 2 kaffir nominally 1.65 to 1.70.

Dealers also quoted as follows, basis delivery Texas group one points: No. 2 mixed corn 95 to 96c; No. 2 white corn 1.02 1-2 to 1.03; No. 2 yellow corn 97 to 97 1-2c. No. 3 white oats 45 to 45 1-2c, to which add 1c for delivery Texas group three.

ALLEGED BANDIT KILLED IN ATTEMPT TO ROB MESSENGER

CANTON, Ohio, July 16.—(AP)—A robber identified as Charles Williams, alias Charles Kisk, 25, of Canton, was shot to death and Charles M. Riblet, 69, former Canton police chief, was wounded here today in a pistol fight that followed the robbery of two messengers of the First National Bank.

A black bag, identical with one taken from the messengers was found later by police in a raid on a room said to have been occupied by James Romeo, who was arrested. The bag contained $60,000 in currency.

Williams was killed by Riblett, who is now head of the bank's protective service after Riblet had been shot down by the bandit. Riblet's condition was described as critical.

The second bandit grabbed the package when the shooting started and escaped to an automobile in which a third man was waiting. The package which at first was said to have contained $7,000, was consigned to the Cleveland federal reserve bank.

CANTON, Ohio, July 16.—(AP)—A man believed by police to be a bandit, was killed and a bank messenger was wounded critically here today in a holdup of two messengers who were transporting a package of registered mail to the postoffice for the Federal Reserve Bank at Cleveland.

Charles M. Riblet, former Canton police chief and messenger for the First National Bank, was wounded in an exchange of shots with two robbers. An unidentified man, said by police to have been one of the robbers, was slain by Riblet.

Riblet and another messenger were attacked by a man as they were passing the City Board of Health building and the registered mail was seized. The bandit fled towards an automobile in which the second man was waiting.

Riblet opened fire on the man and he fell while the second man jumped from the automobile, fired at the messengers and escaped after wounding Riblet. Both robbers were masked.

A woman, who was standing near the postoffice, told authorities one robber jumped from an alleyway seized a package and started running when the shooting started.

Contents of the package was not immediately ascertained.

PHILADELPHIA IS STILL THIRD CITY IN UNITED STATES

PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—(AP)—Hopes that Philadelphia's population would reach the 2,000,000 mark were shattered today when the final figures were announced.

The complete tabulation showed a population of 1,961,458, an increase of 137,679, or 7.54 per cent over 1920. A steady drift to the suburbs and to nearby New Jersey communities was held responsible for the small increase. The city, however, continues to hold third position in the cities of the country, being surpassed in population only by New York and Chicago.

Tarry J. Imber, chairman of the local board of census supervisors, said he agreed with Mayor Harry A. Mackey that if all those residing within the city limits had been enumerated the population would be substantially over the 2,000,000 mark. He said he felt that thousands of persons had been missed by the enumerators

Mr. Imber obtained permission from Washington to get 20,000 personal schedules of census to assist the mayor in rechecking the city. About 7,000 schedules remaining in the local census office also will be placed at the disposal of the city authorities. Mayor Mackey has ordered police to make a special canvass of four wards in West Philadelphia.

State of Rhode Island (revised), 687,020, increase 82,623, or 13.7 per cent.

Infant Died Near Corsicana; To Be Buried at Frost

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams, Corsicana route 1, died at an early hour Wednesday morning, and the body was taken to Frost where interment was made Wednesday afternoon at 4.30.

Corley-McMahon Funeral Home directed the funeral.

Something to Think About!

The bakeries of Corsicana have a pay roll of $1,000.00 per week or $52,000.00 per year. All of this money is spent in Corsicana. Why not buy bread made at home?

OIL ACTIVITY TAKES NEW LEASE ON LIFE IN COUNTY WITH THREE WELLS DRILLING

With three wells now under way in Navarro county Corsicana is again becoming a center of interest to the oil fraternity after a period of comparative dormancy for several months. Other tests are being rumored, with a test for deeper pay sands attracting considerable attention.

The O. W. Killiam-Wilson No. 1 was spudded in at noon Monday about four miles north of Corsicana, and was drilling at about 500 feet Tuesday afternoon. Several thousand acres have been placed under lease by the Killiam interests, and a series of tests are planned. R. H. Deering and sons are the drilling contractors, with T. L. Shields, and Sam Conn drillers in charge.

According to present plans, the well will be drilled to a depth of 4,000 feet or more, with interest centered on the Trinity and Pennsylvania sand series below the Woodbine producing areas. Both day and night crews will be used.

It is the first test in this area for deep production. Mr. Killiam is a well known Texas operator who has been very active in the development of the Laredo fields.

The J. L. Collins and company-G. C. Kent No. 1 near Eureka was reaming down Tuesday after an attempt to core had failed Monday afternoon. The bit was in a white sand formation thought to be the top of the first Woodbine formation, at about 3,220 feet.

A showing of gas estimated at from a half to five million cubic feet was found in the Bateman Oil corporation's No. 1 McCowan in the Bazette area Monday, but salt water encrachment caused complications. A Halliburton tester was run in this well Monday afternoon. Total depth of the well was announced as 3247 feet.

The well was located about 3,000 feet due south of the old gasser drilled several years ago by the Humphreys interests that created the first interest in the Bazette area. Ed W. Bateman, owner of the well and an active operator in the Louisiana and West Texas field, was at the well Monday and stated that an effort would be made to complete the well as a commercial gasser, but if that failed another test in the sector would be made in the near future.

Bill Cain, former field superintendent for the Humphreys interests was drilling superintendent on the test with Gene Kessinger as driller.

The Hughes-Kaufman Hale No 1 in Ellis county, one mile west of Avalon and fourteen miles west of Ennis, was reported drilling at 1611 feet Monday afternoon. R. H. Deering and Sons are the drilling contractors, and the test is expected to be to the Pennsylvania formations, which are expected at about 4,000 feet in that locality.

OKLAHOMA WOMAN DIES IN CORSICANA ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Johnnie Bescher, aged 37 years, of Tulsa, died at the home of her parents Mr and Mrs. Emerson Patton, 1609 West Sixth avenue, Tuesday night at 11:45 following an illness of two weeks, and the funeral will be held at Oakwood cemetery where interment will be made Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The funeral will be conducted by Rev. Tom Lenox pastor of the First Christian church.

Surviving are one daughter, Janette aged eight years, parents, six brothers, Garret Patton, Houston; James Patton, Houston; Arthur Patton, Monterrey, Calif.; Richard Patton, San Antonio; J. C. Patton, New York City and Paul Patton, Corsicana; two sisters Mrs Harry Prine and Mrs Lovlie Myers, both of Wichita Falls, and one half-brother, Louis Patton.

The funeral will be directed by the Sutherland Funeral Home.

LARGER PRODUCERS BACKING MARKETING PLAN FOR COTTON

WACO, July 16.—(Spl)—Field agents of district three, Texas Cotton Co-operative association, went to work Monday morning with renewed interest after a successful start of membership campaigns had been given impetus with a Sunday morning meeting in district headquarters at Waco when it was reported that appproximately 1000 contracts had been signed.

Membership campaigns are underway in practically every county in the district. Only in a few outlying counties is the educational campaign still being carried on.

In Johnson county, Venus, Alvarado and Grandview were to be mass meeting centers early this week when L. E. Winter, district organizer of the co-op and Pat Brooks, district chairman of Itasca, were to explain fully the federal farm board's plan of marketing cotton through the cotton co-operative.

Practically all of the contracts signed by field agents have come from the larger producers of the district, who are almost unanimously behind the marketing plan and who are now working to sign up their tenants.

Lawrence Westbrook, state organizer of the cotton co-op explained to the field agents Sunday that it is the plan and purpose of the association to maintain community life as far as possible through the co-op branch offices and sub-offices.

"When cotton is marketed in the community in which it is raised, the money is usually spent in that community," he said, and added that when the cotton is marketed in some other community, the money or profit, is usually carried away from the community where the cotton is raised.

EFFORTS ORGANIZE CALIFORNIA GRAPE GROWERS FAILURE

FRESNO, July 15.—(AP) Failure today marked initial efforts to organize California's $400,000,000 grape industry into a federal farm board sponsored co-operative.

Attempts to sign up 85 per cent of the 441,000 acres of vineyards failed by 38,000 acres on the basis of reports last midnight, when the campaign officially closed.

The campaign will be continued in hope the government will carry out its financing program if the additional 38,000 acres can be signed before campaign returns are officially checked.

The farm board program calls for an advance of $20,000,000 to the industry and collection of $150 from the growers for each ton of fresh grapes produced,the money to be used in buying up and converting into by-products the 300,000 ton surplus expected this year.

people stricken and helpless, homeless and without places of business, and

Whereas, The good people of Corsicana, within a few moments of time the disaster occurred, were on their way to assist us, giving of their time, means and labor, without stint or limit, sheltering the homeless, giving medical aid to the injured and helping to care for the dead and comfort the bereaved, therefore, we, the Frost members of the Red Cross committee, wish to take this method of expressing our sincere thanks to the citizenship of Corsicana for such unselfish display of their friendship and sympathy toward our people during this sad calamity.

We further wish to express our thanks to Mr. Lloyd Wheelock and Mr. Nick Garitty, who have served so faithfully and impartially as members of our committee for Corsicana, and we wish them to know that they will always hold a warm place in each of our hearts for the noble service they have rendered us.

ABANDONMENT OF PANAMA IN HUNT FOR OIL BY GULF

PANAMA CITY, July 17.—(AP)—After many years of fruitless exploration on the isthmus, the Gulf Oil company has decided to abandon the Isthmian field and has formally asked for a cancellation of the contract awarding a concession to search for oil.

The actual exploration work in the Province of Darien was suspended several months ago, but the concession granted in 1923 was retained, and the company regularly paid an annual fee of $2,500.

The only other oil concern retaining concession rights for exploration within the republic is the Sinclair Oil company, which also has been slowng down its activities gradually.

It is estimated that the Sinclair and Gulf Oil companies have spent about $1,000,000 in a fruitless hunt for the "black gold" in Panama.

Gun Battle Climaxes Lifelong Partnership

EUREKA, Cal., July 17.—(AP)—A gun fight has ended the partnership of two 70-year-old miners who scoured the deserts together in search of gold.

John Apple walked forty miles to Grants Pass, Ore., to surrender to officers yesterday, telling them he had shot to death his partner, John Orloff in a quarrel at the headwaters of Alkhouse creek.

SALARY QUESTION STARTS ARGUMENT IN MERGER CASE

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 17.—(AP)—Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel corporation, mounted to the witness stand today in the suit to enjoin merger of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company with his firm, and touched off a legal battle that promised to wage far into the session.

Almost the first question asked Grace by attorneys for the Cyrus S. Eaton interests, foes of the merger, was:

"How much do you receive in salary, bonuses and other emoluments from the Bethlehem Steel corporation?"

F. H. Wood counsel for the defense, was on his feet immediately with the expected objection, Grace was left, a silent witness, while counsel argued over the property of introducing his reputed salary of $1,600,000 into evidence.

Plaintiffs' attorneys contended his salary is important to their case, for they have charged in the suit that stockholders of the Youngstown company have been, but were not, informed of its size before they ratified the merger April 8, this year.

The defense held Grace's salary was a personal affair with bearing on the issues in the c

Acid Stomach

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer, when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.
